EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

JUDGE THURMAN is in Washington.

GOOD news for the farmers who need it. Wheat sold in Bellefonte on Monday at $1.05 cash.

CHAIRMAN BRICE, of the Democratic committee, has imported 1200 pauper laborers to work on his railroads.

PERHAPS Mr. Cleveland won't write that letter indorsing Hill, because he has worn out his gold pen writing veto messages.

HARRISON'S graduating address was on "The Poor of England," He was a protectionist at nineteen, as he is now in mature manhood.

THE prophets who were predicting that Mr. Blaine would not live long must admit that he has become quite a lively sick man.

THE dogs of Lycoming county destroyed $281 worth of sheep during the month of September which the county commissioners paid.

ELMER HARTMAN has been lodged in the Bedford jail, charged with stealing from the money order fund of the Woodbury postoffice.

THE candidacy of Chas. T. Steck, of Williamsport, and Theo. P. Rynder, of Milesburg, for congress are among the interesting features of this campaign.

MRS. SUSANNA HUGGINS, aged 86 years, Mrs. Ann Markle, aged 77 years, and Mr. James Humes, aged 80 years, are the names of persons who recently died in Perry county.

WHEN a company of Union soldiers from Philadelphia visited Richmond, last week, to take part in the unveiling of a monument, they were compelled to march behind a Rebel flag.

GENERAL HARRISON has a great advantage over other speakers. His speeches, when reported, are invariably read by everybody; and, now we think of it, everybody finds them worth reading.

THE borough council of Newport, Perry county, is going to erect a building for the use of the hook and ladder company of that town, a lot for this purpose having been bought this week.

FRANCE and Italy are still pursuing their mutual occupation of making warlike faces at each other; but each Government shows a commendable caution with regard to leaving off that pursuit and beginning to fight in real earnest.

SOME reformers need nothing so much as reform, and some newspapers rarely dabble in news. As an instance of the latter, here are [Dem.] contemporaries refusing to print General Harrison's speeches, when he says new things every day, and things, too, in which the whole nation is interested.

THERE appears to be a case for pity in the hard situation of the cable car corporation in Chicago. The unreasonable employes strike for shorter hours and more pay, and, if they win, the company will not be able to make more than 15 or 20 per cent on its investment. Here seems to be another encroachment on the sacred vested rights of capital.

WHY THE ENGLISH FREE TRADERS SUPPORT CLEVELAND.

Mr. Depew on his return gave his very valuable and conclusive testimony as to the practical unanimity of English sentiment in favor of Mr. Cleveland's Free Trade Message and of its results as seen in the Mills bill. He referred to the first "general outburst of English rejoicing that came from the English papers" when Mr. Cleveland's manifesto first reached them, and then told how some of these newspapers had been effectually warned against continuing to express their sentiments so freely, and yet Mr. Depew added that "I met scarcely any representative Englishman who did not fully understand that Mr. Cleveland's policy was based upon Free Trade principles, or who did not feel toward Mr. Cleveland and his message just in the same way that the English journals all talked when that message gave them the most agreeable surprise they had ever received from the United States."

It was natural that among the many quotations from the English papers in regard to Mr. Cleveland and his policy some mistakes should have been made in giving credit. The Free Trade organs here have made the most of this, and have kept the exceptional errors prominently and persistently before their readers. But they know that this is the purest and meanest pettifogging—as regards the main question—as to the undoubted fact to which Mr. Depew has testified so strongly and with extraordinary facilities for knowing whereof he spoke.

We predict, however, that even the Free Trade organs will not attempt to discredit the genuineness of quotations that we propose to make from one of the ablest representatives of English sentiment and opinion, the London Saturday Review, of the 15th of September last. That journal stands by Mr. Cleveland as the foremost champion of Free Trade when it says that "President Cleveland has been accused of having shrunk from carrying through his Free Trade policy which he then advocated. The accusation is unjust. His letter proves that he is still favorable to the policy which he advocated in his Message. He does not call it Free Trade; but neither did he then."

That is a clear, concise and correct statement.

The Saturday Review continues its terse and truthful statement of the policy of Mr. Cleveland, when it adds—alluding to the phrase "Free Trade"—"The expression is too unpopular in America to be safely employed. But whatever name he uses or declines to use, President Cleveland is substantially in favor of a financial policy which will impose duties mainly for revenue purposes, will take duties off raw materials, and so widen the market of the American purchaser. He recommends this policy on the ground that it will relieve the taxpayers and help to break down the great trade monopolies called trusts."

MR. CLEVELAND'S administration has been the most disgraceful that was ever imposed on this Nation. It was at first a disgrace to elect him. He was a man without education or experience and of notoriously bad character. Opposed as he was by Mr. Blaine, who is a statesman and a scholar, it seemed like offering a reward to profligacy and evil to elect Mr. Cleveland. His administration has since then been a series of blunders and mistakes. It is bad enough for anyone to refuse a pension to a soldier, but when the man who so refuses was himself too cowardly to engage in the conflict it is still worse. He has refused more than had previously been refused during all the history of this country. Those whom he gathered around him were men never heard of before, with the exception of Bayard and Manning. They were principally monopolists. His free trade move is doubtless influenced by English money. We confess that we have always been ashamed of the fact that this country had such a president and earnestly hope the error—yes, the crime—will not be repeated.

THERE is nothing the matter with the Mills bill except the label on it. If the prescription had been prepared by Dr. McKenley, instead of Dr. Mills, our protectionist friends would have swallowed it without winking.—Philadelphia Record.

Any revenue bill prepared by a resident of a state which has scarcely any manufacturing industries should be handled with extreme caution. As you say, that is enough to condemn it and a patriotic gentleman like Mr. Singerly should assist in the condemnation.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Finance Committee of the Senate have made their report public. It is a document likely to startle the country and awaken wage earners everywhere to the true meaning of the Mills bill.

The report shows that no less than $2,000,000,000 of capital and 1,250,000 persons will be directly affected by the proposed reductions in the various schedules, and that indirectly no less than 5,650,000 will be injured by its passage.

Of the free list of the Mills bill, which, as this paper has repeatedly shown, makes one-sixth of all dutiable articles free, the committee say $500,000,000 of capital will be affected, and 300,000 persons now employed in the industries in question will be thrown open to the competition of foreign labor. The real reduction made by the Mills bill will be nearer fifty per cent. than five per cent., as claimed by Mr. Mills.

It is a masterly report, and dissects the Mills bill thoroughly, showing its dangerous character and exposing the fraudulent methods employed to cover up what had really been done. It supports in every particular the position taken against the bill by this paper, and fortifies every point we have made against the bill.

HARRISON AND THE WORKINGMEN.

In his speech to a workingmen's club on Wednesday, General Harrison expressed opinions upon the labor question which will endear his name to every wage earner in the land. A workingman's wages, he said, should "yield him a decent and comfortable support for his family, enable him to keep his children in school and out of the mill in their tender age," * * * and "allow him to lay up against incapacity by sickness or accident, or for old age, some fund on which he can rely."

This is the broad, humanitarian ground which every sympathetic man must take at the present crisis in the battle of labor for recognition. If any words had been needed to annihilate the absurd "dollar a day" lie which the Democrats have industriously circulated, these sensbile remarks would have buried it beyond resurrection. By this generous speech and by the record of his noble, consistent life, General Harrison has shown himself the foremost friend of the workingmen of America.

THIS paper has not engaged in the discussion participated in by many papers regarding the picnic of the Patrons of this county because we didn't care about it. The general impression is that it was conducted in the interest of the Democratic party. We know that about $50 worth of advertising was sent us which was duly published but no special request came for a representative of the paper to be present. Such things don't concern us at all, however, as the paper forges ahead by virtue of its own inherent merit, without any puffing such as the frog resorted to put before it burst. The Watchman states that Hon. Leonard Rhone descended into its sanctum and earnestly beseeched it to be present and occupy a tent. As the Hon. Leonard Rhone did not act in that flattering manner with this paper we shall only take occasion to say that partiality in reference to the local papers of the county is extremely out of place with Hon. Leonard Rhone or any other Granger.

THE Democrats of New York City were too stingy to pay postage on the political documents which they sent out, so they put the name of their Congressmen, S. S. Cox, on the mail matter and sent it free. But Mr. Cox, quite justly, determined that they should not thus abuse the franking privilege, and he has made a public statement that he he has sent no mail matter free and that the use of his name was a forgery. This puts the Democrats in a hole. We should imagine that with the $10,000,000 donated by the Cobden club and the $50,000 given by the Democratic administration, there would be no necessity for such dishonesty.

HILL, who is nominated for Governor of New York by the Democrats, is generally supposed not to be in love with Cleveland. Hewitt, who will almost certainly be the Democratic nominee for Mayor in New York city, openly states that he will not vote for the President's re-election. This renders the New York States Democrats a rather unhappy family.

ARBOR DAY, OCTOBER 19.

Dr. E. E. Higbee, superintendent of public instruction, has issued a circular fixing Friday, October 19, as an Autumn school Arbor Day. He says: "Many of our schools, for various reasons, were not able to observe the regular Arbor Day in answer to the governor's proclamation. We are anxious that the good work so happily begun may continue, and give still larger results for the benefit of the schools, and for the general good of the commonwealth. It is not necessary to confine Arbor Day work exclusively to the planting of trees. The proper grading of school grounds the removal of stones and all refuse, the careful guarding of trees against the winter winds, the protection of tender shrubbery from destructive frosts, the dissemination of useful information on the subject of fruit and shade trees, of forestry, and landscape gardening, the gathering and storage of seeds for the next Spring's planting, botanic lessons especially devoted to the flora of the districts, with reports from season to season of what has been done in the locality, what good results have followed therefrom, and what is proposed yet shall be done—all these are proper subjects for Arbor Day observance, and well deserve attention.

Is it not important for the Republicans of this congressional district to speedily make a nomination for congress? While the natural Democratic majority of the district is large, it is by no means hopelessly so. The nomination of an uncompromising protectionist is all that is necessary to create a revolution of sentiment. If added to this is the nomination of a candidate who is in favor of service pensions his election would be almost certain. It is time for decided action. It may surprise many Republicans to know that the Democratic majority last year was only slightly over 2,000 and it is yearly growing less. A decided effort throughout the district on the two issues outlined would make the Republicans successful. Go to work.

COMRADE Jacob Hilgert, favored the Milton Post, G. A. R., with an interesting history of the Soldier's Home, at Hampton, Va., a few nights since. He says that almost daily the inmates of the place are insulted by visiting rebels who boast that they now have the government and they will make preparations so that when they again rebel, they will be successful and then no d—d yankees will be quartered on them. This is no campaign story, gotten up by the Republicans, as Mr. H. has been a life-long Democrat, but he says he will not vote for Cleveland this time, on account of the bold and aggressive demeanor assumed by the Rebels under this administration.

AT a Republican meeting in Blair county, Mr. W. R. Hopkins, of Howard, this county, was called upon for a speech. He commenced by propounding a conundrum by asking his hearers if they could tell "why he and President Cleveland were alike." Of course the crowd gave it up and the speaker had to answer his own puzzle. He said, "Because we are both out of place—Mr. Cleveland is out of place in the Presidential chair, and I am out of place on the speaker's stand." "Forgeman's" speech was short, but he kept the crowd in a perfect roar as long as it lasted.

FRANCES GORMONT, of Frenchville, Clearfield county, probably 72 or 73 years of age, died Wednesday, 26th ult., and was buried Thursday 27th. He was born in Haute-Savne, France, and came to this country in 1834. He was married to a daughter of Frances Lamotte who survives him, together with a family of several sons and daughters, all grown.

THE importance attached to the selecting of jurymen is exemplified in the following instance: Judge Pershing, of Schuylkill county, created a sensation at a recent convening court by dismissing all jurors and witnesses because he had learned that the Jury Commissioners had drawn the list of names from the wheel in the absence of the Sheriff.

THE pension office has received notice to suspend payment of the pension of Mrs. Sarah Crutcher, of Pitt's Point, near Bardstown, Ky., widow of James Crutcher, a Revolutionary soldier. She died on Saturday, September 30. She was eighty-eight years old and had drawn a pension since 1853.

THE Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania regiment held a very successful reunion at Indiana on Thursday.

PROTECT AMERICAN INTERESTS.

If the people of the United States should adopt the free trade idea—should conclude to purchase abroad everything they consume that can be purchased cheaper than at home, is it not plain that two-thirds of our people would have no employment and, therefore, no money wherewith to purchase supplies, even though flour be worth but $1 per barrel and beef one cent per pound? And is it not also plain that to the extent that we purchase abroad such articles as can be produced at home a certain proportion of our people must be condemned to enforced idleness and, therefore, to poverty, ignorance and degradation

The people of the United States, like the people of all civilized nations, are compelled to contribute to the support of government, and all the male inhabitants of military age are under obligation to risk their lives in defense of that government in the event of war. Is it not, therefore, both just and expedient that our own citizens be preferred in our markets over foreigners—not merely placed upon an equality with them? Giving the preference to our own citizens implies no enmity, no hostility to the people of other nations, for we recognize the right of other nations to prefer their people over us; and even if we did not they would exercise that right—have always done so and always will.—Ohio State Journal.

WHAT PROTECTION HAS DONE.

Our foreign commerce has doubled since 1860, increasing faster during that time than has England's.

Our internal commerce is enormously greater than our foreign trade, and the money involved in it is kept at home among our own people, instead of being spent in foreign countries.

Our own people have $1,100,000,000 in savings banks—more per capita than the people of any other country—and more per capita since Republican protection held sway than ever before.

There are 11,000,000 inhabitants in New England and New York State, with $715,000,000 in savings banks. The United Kingdom—England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland—has 38,000,000 inhabitants and $182,000,000 in savings banks. There are $12 in savings in those States for every $1 in Great Britain.

Will it pay to change a policy that works such good results to try one which is marked in countries it controls by the abject poverty of the working classes and by a rate of wages only half as great as our own?—Toledo Blade.

THE school teachers now engaged in Blair county must be ridiculously ignorant. The Altoona Times says that they cannot pronounce English words properly and that not one in ten can prepare a respectable article for the press. Such is not the case in Centre county. We suppose that any teacher in this county can talk with a fluency, grace and correctness which would cause the Times editor to turn green with envy, and as for preparing readable and instructive articles for the press that is as easy for them as to fall off a log.

THE fact that the firm of Shipman, Barlow & Choate, of New York, has made good the loss of over $120,000 from the forgeries of Bedell, their clerk, is quoted as an instance of professional honor. Before it can be fully accepted as such it should be shown whether the firm was not liable, and would not have been forced to pay anyhow. Nevertheless the readiness to pay such an amount without trying to wriggle out of it, is such an improvement on the usual methods that we should be ready to credit the legal firm with a good deal of uprightness.

WHEN the Chicago Convention named its ticket, it unconsciously put into it the great issue of the Campaign, as thus:

HARRISON MORTON
HOME. MARKET.

H STANDS for Harrison, happiness and health; while M is for Morton, with ability and wealth; P's for Protection, Pie, Plenty and Pelf; and together they're all for Pork, Potatoes, Peaches, Preserves, Potpie, Pudding and a whole lot of good things, that the Emigrant comes to Protected America to get.

THE Democratic papers all over the country suppress the reports of General Harrison's speeches. And yet they call themselves newspapers. They are afraid to let their readers read for themselves.

GENERAL NOTES.

George West, of Roslyn, N.Y., brought up two clams at Sea Cliffe recently that weighed 3¼ pounds apiece.

John D. Cooper, of Santa Rosa, has raised a Japanese cucumber that measured 3 feet 6 inches in length.

The tallest man in Congress is Stewart, of Texas, while Bowers of Georgia is the leanest. Senator Ingalls is the thinnest.

A beetle as large as a sparrow has been found by the State entomologist o New York. It came from Central America.

William Pool, of Limestone Hill, W. Va., has a powder horn that General Washington gave to his grandfather 100 ago.

A man who died in Baltimore last week from the effect of falling asleep with his chin hanging over the rim of a celluloid collar.

Mrs. Mary Peconga, who died at the Indian reservation, near Marion, Ind., last week, was the widow of the last chief of the Miami tribe.

In Warren county, New York, a bounty of 50 cents is paid to every one who presents to the proper officer the head and rattles of a rattlesnake.

One of the natural curiosities at Antelope creek, in Butte creek valley, about a mile from the residence of W. J. Bray, is a cave which contains ice all the year round.

A man died at Flint, Mich., a few days ago, wrote his own funeral sermon, the hymns to be sung at his funeral, the words of consolation to his friends and the epitaph for his tombstone.

There are 493 mountain peaks in the United States more than 10,000 feet in height. The highest mountain is Mount Baisam Cone, in the Black Mountains of North Carolina, 6,671 feet high.

A citizen of Marietta, La., put some chestnuts on the roof to dry, and the rats gnawed holes through the roof to get the chestnuts, and when it rained the water came through those holes with a rush.

So rigid is the quarentine against yellow fever at Memphis that a barrel of Michigan celery packed in ice, was refused admittance to the city a few days ago, through fear that it might contain fever germs.

It is said that Jay Gould gave in the course of his life $2,000 to churches, he once having purchased a bell costing that amount for a little wooden church at Roxbury, N. Y., near which the millionaire was born.

A revivalist, who tried to do business in Jefferson county, Missouri, found that it wasn't any use to buck against political meetings, and gave up in disgust. The excitement of the campaign has Missouri right by the tail.

The Deleware county farmer who recently advertised for a wife has already received 100 letters from women of various ages, who are willing to marry him. The advertiser is said to be 60 years old and very well to do.

Ten cows belonging to Farmer Green, of North Danville, Vt., huddled close together under some trees, in a violent thunder storm. Lightning struck the trees and, passing downward, killed every cow in the drove.

The other day F. V. Ferrill, William Carter and others living near San Pedro bay, Fla., enjoyed a chase of five hours after a monster bear in that swamp. It was finally killed by Mr. Carter, and weighed nearly 400 pounds.

The titles which would be conferred upon Miss McTavish by a marriage with the Duke of Norfolk, in addition to that of the Duchess, would be countess of Arundel, Surrey and Norfolk, Baroness Fitz-Allan, Clun, Oswaldestre and Maltravers.

The 24 men who composed the petit jury for the September term of the Buchanan County Court, in Missouri, weighed 5,638 pounds, an average of 285 pounds. The lightest man on the jury tipped the beam at 200 pounds, while the heaviest weighed 265.

The longest through car service of any railroad line in the world is said to be on the Southern Pacific road, between New Orleans and San Francisco, 2,595 miles. The fastest through train on this road is timed at 113 hours, 25 minutes, or at the rate of 22 miles an hour.

Rosa Bonheur having asked leave to paint in the Hagenbeck Menagerie at Homburg, Herr Hagenbeck sent her three panthers and a keeper to look after them. She now has them at the seaside and more animals will be lent her whenever she wants to have them.

Electric lighting companies in Providence, R. I., have signified their willingness to build conduits for their wires through the streets of the central portions of that city if they be granted an exclusive franchise for a term of years for the privilege of allowing the city to use the conduits.

The most original as well as artistic suicide yet comes from Yadkin county, North Carolina, where one Rufe Revis broke into his neighbor's still room and putting one end of a syphon in a barrel of chain lightning and the other in his mouth, got so entirely full that he had not space enough for breath.

SAMPLE ROOMS.

Samples of wine, and samples of beer,
Samples of all kinds of liquor sold here
Samples of whiskey, samples of gin,
Samples of all kinds of bitters. Step in.
Samples of ale, and porter and brandy;
Samples as large as you please, and quite handy;
Our samples are pure, and also you'll find
Our customers always genteel and refined;
For gentlemen know when they've taken enough
And never partake of the common stuff.
Besides these samples within, you know,
There are samples without of what they can do;
Samples of headache, samples of gout;
Samples of coats with the elbows out.
Samples of boots without heels or toes;
Samples of men with a broken nose,
Samples of men in the gutter lying,
Samples of men with delirum dying,
Samples of men all evil daring;
Samples of lonely, tired men,
Who long in vain for their freedom again;
Samples of old men worn in the strife,
Samples of young men tired of life;
Samples of ruined hopes and lives,
Samples of desolate homes and wives;
Samples of aching hearts grown cold
With anguish and misery untold;
Samples of noble youth in disgrace,
Who meet you with averted face;
Samples of hungry little ones,
Starving to death in their dreary homes
In fact, there is scarcely woe on earth
But these 'samples' have nurtured or given birth
Oh! all ye hypocrites to sorrow and crime,
Who deal out death for a single dime,
Know ye that the Lord, though he may delay,
Has in reserve for the last great day
The terrible 'woe,' of whose solemn weight
No mortal can know till the pearly gate
Is closed, and all with one accord
Acknowledge the justice of their reward.

TWO WONDERS.

Early; she said:
Who shall I take? I wonder and muse;
The world is before me where to choose,
And all but one I must refuse.
There's Henry, Thomas and Ned;
And the man with the buggy and big watchchain,
Who has driven me twice and is coming again.

There's Albert, Jim and Fred;
They all flock round me, and I know why
I'm just too lovely, artless and shy.
But marriage bonds so tightly fetter,
I'll wait awhile—I may do better.
I'll wait for pudding—I don't like pie;
Shucks are cheap—but corn is high,
And none of these commonplace fellows do;
So who shall I take? I wonder who!

Later; she said:
Who can I get? I wonder who!
For chances to marry are really few,
Though I've known a dozen, at least, would do.

There was Henry, Thomas and Ned,
But Henry has courted a girl and married her,
And Thomas is roving the world somewhere
There was Albert, Jim and Fred;
But these are now engaged, they say;
And the man with the buggy has rolled away,
The minute they see me, the men all scatter.
I've waited too long, I know, is the matter,
A girl is foolish to strain her luck;
To hold for corn, and lose even the shuck
Pudding is best—but pie will do;
Oh! who can I get? I wonder who!

POOR LITTLE TEDDY AND RICH LITTLE TOM.

BY EMILY BAKER SMALLE.

Poor Little Teddy! on Christmas Day
They gave him a cap and a muffler gay,
A box of tools, with skates and a sled,
And high topped boots whose tops were red.
But what was that? 'Twas nothing at all
When he wanted a big, big rubber ball.
Poor little Teddy!

He wanted pie for dinner, one day,
They were going to have it, he heard 'em say;
But pudding with plums was what he had.
O poor little Ted! now wasn't it sad?
His red lips grew to a terrible pout;
He didn't want that, so he went without.
Poor litte Teddy!

He wanted to try his bran new sled,
One day after school. O poor little Ted!
But his mother sent him off to the store—
This poor little boy! and his grief was sore.
Oh, how he hated to mind his mother!
To help her, and play with his little brother,
O poor little Ted!

Rich little Tommy! on Christmas Day
Only one present came in his way;
A pair of mittens his mother had knit,
A fiery scarlet, and just the fit!
Weren't they nice? he asked his brother;
And hadn't he got the dearest mother?
Rich little Tommy!

Sometimes he didn't have dinner enough.
And you may think that he called it rough;
But he didn't, not he! this rich little boy—
Sometimes he had plenty, and that was joy,
And loved to help his tired mother,
He loved to play with his little brother
O rich little Tom!

In summer or winter, fall or spring,
He was just as happy as any king.
In winter, 'tis true, he had no sled,
But he slid down hill on aboard instead.
When the snow was hard and glazed with ice,
He could steer it "lovely"—just as nice!"
Rich little Tommy.

Tommy and Teddy will both be men;
Will there be a difference between them then?
Ah, yes! there must be, my little lad;
One will be happy and one will be sad.
Look over these lines, eyes black and blue,
And see which one is the most like you
Of these two little T's

Our Story Teller.

A TEMPERANCE REPUBLICAN.

Why Rev. Daniel Dorchester, D. D., Will Vote for Gen. Harrison.

THIRD PARTY PROHIBITIONISTS, READ AND REFLECT.

To an Intelligent Public:

Many inquiries have been propounded to me during the past three months, a few of which I desire to answer in this letter.

1. I am asked why, as a temperance reformer, I remain in the Republican party, while other temperance people have left it?

I answer.

1. I am not aware that many temperance people have left the Republican party. Not 3 per cent, in 1884, went into the Third party; and probably 90 per cent of all in the North who favor the more radical temperance measures are now in the Republican party. It is not likely to be so lonesome a place for temperance people as the Third party. I prefer to remain in the old ranks and work with the greater mass of temperance people, who are more concerned to promote temperance than to build up a party. That the solid temperance sentiment of the Northern States is in the Republican party, nothwithstanding it has not done and cannot at once do all that over-sanguine agitators ask it to do, I will proceed to show.

2. The only prohibition States—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island Iowa and Kansas—are reliable Republican States.

3. The portions of the aforesaid State where prohibition is well enforced are the parts which are most strongly Republican.

4 The localities in the North where no-license prevails, under local option, are almost wholly Republican.

5. Where license prevails under local option, the great bulk of the no license vote is cast by Republicans.

6. In the States where heavy "tax laws" have been enacted against the saloon, because it was felt that public sentiment would not enforce prohibition, this aggressive movement for temperance has been led and sustained chiefly by Republicans, who will gladly hail still more radical measures when the people are ready for them.

7. To the extent that, in the North, the Republicans have a sufficiently controlling influence, the saloons disappear or are seriously crippled. There are some sad exceptions, but not numerous.

8 The present Maine law was given to that State by Republicans in 1853. The original "Maine law" was enacted as an unpartisan measure in 1850. A member of that Legislature told me that the Democrats were, that year, in the ascendancy, but Whigs and Democrats both voted pro and con on the question, without making a party issue, the Whigs more generally favoring it than the Democrats. A half dozen years later the Democrats repealed it, as a party measure, and, in 1858, the Republicans restored it, in an improved form, and they have kept it on the statute books ever since.

9. In New Hampshire and Vermont as well as in Maine, the original "Maine laws" by the influence of Republicans. have been kept on the statute books ever since they were enacted. Third-party speakers and writers assert that in half a score of States the Republican party repealed the original "Maine laws." These laws were never repealed, as party measures. I will tell how the repeal came about. A great reaction came over the over the country, owing to several causes: 1st, large immigration; 2d, the civil war, 3d, non-enforcement of those laws during the engrossing events of the war; 4th, neglect of temperance agitations from the same cause, letting down public sentiment; 5th the reactionary theorizing by ex-Governor Andrew, Hon. Linus Child and Dr. H. Bowditch, three men of the largest professional and public influence of any in the country. In consequence, the Maine laws fell into non-use, lost their support in the popular heart, and then no laws could have kept them on the statute books, nor would they have been of any value without public sentiment behind them.

When they were repealed, the Republican party was in no instance committed to the repeal, the rescinding acts being accomplished generally by the Democrats, with enough Republicans to make the needful majority. A few Republicans were prominent in the reactionary movement, just as some prominent Third-party men are now opposed to constitutional prohibition.

10. All the most radical temperance legislation, in the North, for a third of a century, has been proposed and enacted by Republicans.

11. In Congress, the only members who have assailed the liquor traffic and attempted measures against it, with the exception of Messrs. Colquit of Georgia and Reagan of Texas, have been Republicans. Even in voting on the proposed "Inquiry into the Alcoholic Liquor Traffic," said Mr. McPherson, in no case were more than six Democrats recorded for it, and only four Republicans against it.

12. The constitutional prohibitory amendments are favorite measures of Republicans. In twenty Northern legislatures where these amendments have been acted upon, Republicans have proposed them, championed, sustained and voted for them, with few exceptions. In the final legislative votes, not more than from three to fifteen Republicans, in any instance, were recorded against the amendments, while from 50 to 150 Republicans voted for them. In many of the instances where the amendments failed to receive the necessary majority, rum Democrats were elected to the Legislature by the help of the Third party, running candidates against, and thus defeating prohibitory Republicans. In ten of the States where the amendment was submitted to the people, the submission was indebted, almost entirely, from first to last, to Republicans; and even in the two Democratic States, Tennessee and Texas, the Republicans did more than their share according to their numbers. In six States where prohibitory amendments have been adopted, the Republicans were almost a unit for them, and but few others favored them. In numerous instances, Republican State conventions, in advance, recommended the legislatures to submit the amendment to the people; and, when adopted by the people, the Republicans, as a party, formally endorsed it in their State conventions, and championed its enforcement.

13. My chief concern in this matter is to help the cause of temperance, which I think can be done more effectively and more widely, in the Republican party than in the Third party. So far as I can judge, after long, close and candid observation, there is more practical effective work to promote the cause of temperance, among the ardent temperance men in the Republican party, than in the Third party, where the preponderating aim of the leaders seems to be to build up a party autonomy. And I think the chances for the solution of the temperance problem are fifty-fold better in the old party of great achievements than in the Third party, which after 20 years of extravagant promises has no practical temperance results to show.

14. I advise those who have gone out of the Republican party, because impatient on account of slow temperance progress, to return and strengthen the cause within the old lines, now so rapidly advancing.

II. I am asked if I was not disappointed in the temperance plank of the National Republican Convention this year.

Not at all.

1. I have not as much confidence in the efficacy of political party action in solving the liquor problem as many seem to have.

2. Party platforms are often merely convenient makeshifts, deftly shaped, for popular effect. This is noticably the case with the Third party utterance on the woman's suffrage question in 1884, and its tame quasi exoressions on other topics than temperance this year. Many intelligent citizens, for these reasons, have said they never read the party platforms, but look more to the trend of its action and the character and makeup of its constituency. With a consistent, reliable, lifelong temperance man like General Harrison as our candidate, we have the largest and best kind of a temperance plank.

3. It is often the case, and must be so, that party convention utterances will be less binding on many individual members of a party than the sentiments of their local constituency, which vary greatly on many topics in the different sections of a country so diversified in the character of its population.

4. There are strange ideal notions in regard to political platforms. There is the reform ideal, as seen from a high ethical standpoint; and there is the ideal of the statesman, long accustomed to discriminate as to what is practicable. The latter looks to what can be done, and thinks an ideal law which cannot be enforced, in large areas within the State, ought not to be enacted. There are some things a State cannot do. It cannot make the highest ethical ideals practicable simply by enacting them as statutes. If it could it would be well to enact the golden rule. The true reformer will hold his high ethical ideal, as an ultimate end, and advance society towards it, as fast as he can.

5. It should be kept in mind that this is the first time either of the two great parties have said anything in favor of temperance in their national platforms. The Democrats have repeatedly declared against "sumptuary legislation," but the Republicans have been silent on this subject. I have examined the entire record. The "Raster resolution" in 1872 which the Third party men say was against temperance, had no reference to that matter, as we have been told by General Hawley and other members of the committee on resolutions that year I could hold up both hands for that resolution, every day both before and after prayers.

6. The reason for this silence of the national convention has been a general conviction that the suppression of the saloon is chiefly a matter for the States and localities, at least for a considerable time to come and that but a little can be effectively done in a national capacity, until after the temperance reform shall have more fully prepared the way in the States. This conviction is honestly held by large multitudes of the wisest and best men.

7. We could not reasonably expect that the first utterance of a national convention, upon so complex a question, would be of the most radical character. In the language of General Harrison, "It is not so much length of a step which is taken, as the direction of the step."

8. Consider, too, that the temperance sentiment is much more advanced in some States than in others; hence the difficulty of making all the delegates from the whole country as one body, declare the same views, if very radically expressed.

9. The plank adopted by the convention, when broadly and discriminatingly viewed, is eminently wise and strong for a national body:

The first concern of all good government is the virtue and sobriety of the people and the purity of the home. The Republican party cordially sympathize with all wise and well-directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality.

On this plank all temperance workers, however radical can stand and labor without hinderance; and those not so radical can also work in their own way. Each one judges what he regards as "wise and well-directed efforts." All will judge for themselves. No party lash can or ought to make them do otherwise, for moral reforms cannot be hurried faster than the growth of individual convictions.

10. While our national platform has been silent until this year, almost every year and for many years the Republican State convention platforms have contained emphatic temperance declarations. Though not as radical as some have desired, yet these declarations have been advancing and strengthening year by year. The length of the step has been increasing. It is a patent fact that the average sentiment among Republicans has been stronger than that embodied in the platforms, and it is every year showing itself in a practical way by more radical legislation. This is better than to talk loud, and do nothing but to help to elect rum Democrats to the legislature.

The work of enforcing the liquor laws has incalculably advanced within a decade by Law and Order leagues and other agencies, and whoever does anything in this line of action but Republicans? Seldom does a Democrat, and almost as rarely a Third party man; but these classes, with few exceptions, throw cold water, or worse than that, actually obstruct, liquor prosecutions.

111. Would it not be better to have a political party distinctly committed to a radical temperance policy and to its enforcement?

By no means. I have already said that I have not so much confidence in the efficacy of merely partisan action, in settling the saloon problem, as many seem to have. This idea is a kind of virus with which many are too easy inoculated.

1. They do not consider that this problem has many elements entering into it which political action cannot solve. It has, indeed, political and economical bearings, but it more fundamentally pertains to social and moral life, to appetites and drinking customs, which political partisan action can only incidentally touch.

2. If I could have my way, no political party would champion specific temperance measures. I would have party conventions strike the saloons sharply, and stimulate to action against them as a means of making strong and influential sentiment, but no party shibboleth of specific legislative measures should divide the reform forces. Strong sentiment will inevitably crystallize itself into enactments, as fast as it develops and intensifies; and laws thus brought about can be and will be enforced. But to extraneously force measures, by political party platforms, divides and alienates true friends of reform, and postpones desired results. In a republic laws which do not grow out of the common sentiment and life of the people are worth but little. But Republican conventions have recommended legislatures to submit constitutional prohibition to the people, as a sure basis on which to decide the question of statutory prohibition.

3. Matters so vital to the best welfare of our common life ought not to depend upon the accidental fortunes and fluctuations of political parties, with the jealousies, bickerings and reckless ambitions incidental thereto. These interests are too great and too sacred to be perilled by the footballs of politicians.

4. Thus far in its history the actual influence of the Third party has been to handicap temperance legislation.

5. In a republic no party can long retain the ascendency, and when a party goes down, the interests identified with it suffer a decline and possibly a collapse. So must it be with a political temperance party.

6. Moreover it is a mistake to presume that only those questions which are made issues in party platforms are settled at the polls. The prohibitory legislation in Kansas, Iowa and Maine was not enacted by any party organized on that issue, but through parties organized on other issues, and having in them a common substratum of temperance sentiment, diffused like the sentiment against larceny. Local option has been extensively adopted, as a favorite and effective policy in treating the liquor question, but in only a few instances has it been a party measure. From the nature of the case local option must sustain an unpartisan relation, if it is to succeed.

7. Besides it is a matter of common observation that strictly partisan legislation can be enforced only in limited localities. The best enforced laws are those freest from party taint, like the laws against larceny, etc.

8. The idea of a Prohibition party to enforce a prohibition policy which Third party leaders reiterate, sounds well, and is very misleading to those who have not thought the matter through. Prof. Bascomb, the ablest expounder of this theory, says: "The State must be officered from top to bottom" on this basis, 'electing the officers, from judge to justices of the peace, governors, mayors, aldermen and policemen," and must hold the power for a dozen years or so," then "it can enforce prohibition."

This is the ideal scheme the Third party is entertaining. And some such machinery, through all the towns and cities of a State, will indeed be necessary to justify their theory of a Prohibitory party behind a prohibition policy to enforce it.

But what a vain delusion! Where is the State, especially if it has any large cities, which is "officered from top to bottom," and in all its municipalities, by the party that holds the State offices? Not one can be mentioned. The Democrats are now in the ascendency in the State of New York, but large areas of the State are Republican; and when the Republicans have held the State offices in New York, the Democrats have held New York city and many other towns and cities. The same is true of all other States.

And yet these ideal party builders would postpone the great interests of the temperance reform, would hedge up and obstruct the efforts of those who, by unpartisan methods, seek to protect the home against the saloon, until this impossible political conception can be realized.

On this visionary basis they make extravagant promises and predictions—their principal stock in trade. It is an old trick of bankrupts that they are lavish with promise to pay; so a political party that is built upon a hallucination can never be solvent, either in present or prospective results. It costs one nothing to offer "all the kingdoms of the world" when he does not own a rood of land.

For these reasons I am a Republican, and support Harrison and Morton in the present campaign.

THE BUSTLE BURST.

A Tragic Event in a San Francisco Lecture Room.

One evening about two months ago, while Charles Dickens, Jr., was giving a reading in the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, a tall finely-formed lady, with patrician features and a dignified gait, entered by the left door and walked up the aisle. She was accompanied by her husband, whose military bearing added effect to the aristocratic appearance of his better half.

On reaching a seat a few yards from the platform she gave a swing to her dress as she attempted to sit down gracefully. But her foot caught in the carpet, and she stumbled and fell heavily on the seat. As she did so a muffled report was heard, and the lady was observed to collapse with a lurch. Her face turned deathly pale, and then a carmine hue, and she sprang to her feet in great confusion.

No one dreamed that this story would be the subject of a civil suit, but unhappily this has been the result. The lady brought suit against her dressmaker, who had manufactured the unfortunate bustle, and the case was brought into court last week.

In the trial the dressmaker stated that her fair customer had ordered her to make a dress (with all the additions thereunto appertaining) which should be a perfect fit and entirely satisfactory to the wearer. Upon cross-examination the witness swore to the best of her knowledge and belief that her customer had varied in size from day to day, and several bustles had to be specially manufactured before one could be found that was of the proper size. At last the dress was finished and the purchaser agreed on behalf of the second part of the contract, not to sit down suddenly, and in all respects to observe the cautions set forth by the unfortunate dressmaker. This, as it appeared from the evidence, she had neglected to do, and with the disastrous result above chronicled.

The rubber bustle had collapsed to the injury and disgrace of the plaintiff. The judge in giving his decision on the merits of the case spoke as follows: "This is a most peculiar case. I have read of bustles being made of horsehair, muslin newspapers, pillows, bird cages and even quilts. I have heard alarm clocks striking the hour within the folds of a lady's dress. Smuggled cigars, jewelry and brandy have also been brought to light, but I never heard before of an air-tight bustle exploding in church, and then being made the subject of a civil suit. Not being married yet, the situation is somewhat perplexing to me, but still, looking at the case from a legal standpoint, I think we can adjust matters satisfactorily. Were a non explosive bustle used this suit might never have been brought."

His Honor then deducted $8.50 from the dressmakers bill, as the defendant set up a claim for damages for the explosion trouble. He then rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $11.50.

BAH—Always there is some fellow who wants to pronounce everything different from everybody else. One day, we remember, a young fellow speaking to old Dr. Cramp, of Wolfville, Nova Scotia—forever blessed be the good and grand old man's memory—said that he had just returned from Manito-bah. "Ah," said the old man sweetly, and kindly, "and did you go down into Minneso-tah? There was a profound silence, and the old doctor went on: "There is a route of musical names from the South to the Northwest out there—Nebras-kah, Minneso-tah, Manito-bah, British Columbi-ah and Alas-kah." And after that we heard no more about Manito-bah around Acadiah College.—Burdette.

A story is told of Mr. Justice Hannen, who is to preside over the Parnell Commission. He is said to be so correct and conscientious that he has scarcely ever made a mistake; but he did once. A demure, somber-dressed juryman, in melancholy tones, claimed exemption from serving, and his lordship asked in kind and sympathetic tones, "On what ground?" "My lord," said the applicant, "I am deeply interested in a funeral which takes place to-day, and am most anxious to follow." "Certainly, sir, your plea is a just one." The man departed, and a moment after Mr. Justice Hannen learned that he was—the undertaker.—New York Evening Post.

Clerk—Mr. Brigsby, I want to ask a favor of you.

"A beloved uncle of mine is to be buried to-day, and I would like to go to the funeral."

"Very well, James, but wait a few minutes and we'll go together. I want to see the ball game myself."

RELIGIOUS, BUT ECONOMICAL.—Husband (on his way to church): "I'll just skip on ahead, my dear, and get some change. I've nothing less than one dollar, and that's too much to give." Wife, (on his overtaking her), "Did you get the bill changed?" Husband: "Yes" Wife, "You will contribute half a dollar John?" Husband: "I can't very well now. I happened to meet three or four friends, and I've only got a quarter left."

A BIG FIELD ALL TO HIMSELF.—"Yes, father," he said to old Mr. Hayseed, "I've gaaduated, and my education is complete. I s'pose I know about everything. Now I must choose a field where my abilities can be used to the best advantage. I want a large field where I will have plenty of room. "Son," replied the old man, "there is the ten-acre cornfield, and you kin have it all to yourself."

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR

Died of Bright's disease of the kidneys. So have scores of other brilliant public men. Dr. Edwards, editor of the New York Medical Reporter, says that this disease is growing more common and fatal daily. People have it without knowing it, until a cure is impossible. It arises from poison in the blood. The kidneys and liver fail to act, the poison rises finally to the brain, causing convulsions and death. Its first symptoms are dullness in the head, wandering pains about the body, especially in the small of the back, loss of appetite, strength and ambition, and by dropsical swellings which show the disease to be rapidly increasing. The only cure is a medicine that will stimulate the liver, kidneys and skin to throw off the poison and then act upon the bowels to carry the four waste matters out of the system. Bear in mind that any kidney affection, neglected, soon runs into Bright's disease. DR. BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA cures it in a very simple and effective way. It sweeps through the corrupted circulation like a current of fresh air through a room filled with gas. It opens the natural outlets and expels the deadly element before it has time to do further mischief. One week's use of it will satisfy you of the truth of what we say.

Mr Carleton P. Williams, of Amesbury, Mass., writes: "I had Bright's disease of the kidneys, and made up my mind to die. The best physicians had treated me and done no real good. At this time you presented me with a bottle of BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA. I used six bottles and consider myself a well man." This splendid remedy may be a God-send to you. If you have the slightest fear of this dread disease resort at once to

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may gradually be built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. TARIFF LITERATURE FOR ALL.

The American Protective Tariff League is publishing a most valuable series of Tariff documents. These are prepared with a view not only to state the fact and arguments for Protection, but also to convince doubtful voters, whether they are farmers, laborers, merchants professional men. Each issue of the series appeals to those engaged in separate industries, and presents indisputable facts, comparisons of wages cost of living, and other arguments showing the benefits of Protection. Recent issues including the following:

HOW TO LIVE ON A THOUSAND A YEAR.

Mrs Rorer is writing a series of articles on this subject, the first of which appears in the current number of Table Talk. She is a practical woman and there can be little doubt of her solving a problem which has been exercising the minds of those who, while they are quite as fond of comfort and luxury as other people, yet are debarred, in a measure, from both by the modest length of their purse. Much has been written on the subject generally by those whose benevolent intentions have not been backed up with the practical knowledge needful to make their remedies effective. We all know what a debt of gratitude the world owe Mrs. Rorer for the culinary solace it found in her Cook Book, and we think that if she succeeds in showing "the great majority"—that is, those who come under the head of "the middle class"—how they can make their little incomes answer the culinary ends of bigger ones, and thus to live—not merely exist—on a thousand a year,"—we say if she can do this, 'the great majority" will take care that her name will not be forgotten by the still greater majority that is very likely to follow them, TABLE TALK is an enterprising journal and certainly deserves its success. TABLE TALK PUBLISHING Co., 402, 404 & 406 Race street, Philadelphia. $1.00 a year, 10 cents a single copy.

Editors Table

John E Barrett, editor of the Scranton (Pa.) Truth, is one of the busiest newspaper men in America. In addition to erecting a splendid new building and equipping it with one of Hoe's web-perfecting presses, he has just written a thrilling, and romantic story for Collier's Once A Week entitled "Masked Marriage," which will appear in No 16 of that popular publication. A recent issue of the Boston Pilot pays Barrett a glowing tribute, and warmly urges his election to Congress but he speaks to a wider constituency in Once A Week, and his story of "A masked marriage," is assuredly one of the literary sensations of the year.

Colliers Once A Week is a handsomely and profusely illustrated paper of twenty pages, containing two serials, several complete stories, special articles on society matters, political articles by the best writers in both the leading parties' amusements, Wall street financial "bubbles," fashions and departments devoted to the education and culture of young men and young women, and for the edification of the family. Not a line is permitted in its columns that is not absolutely pure. It is mailed to subscribers at 25 cents per month, payable to the collector, who will call at the subscriber's address or $2.70 per year in advance. Publication office. No. 104 Attorney street, New York.

The Servant Question.—It is probably quite safe to say that of all perplexing questions which arise in the life of an average house-keeper: nothing is more perplexing, or a source of more anxiety of thought, than the servant question. and any help to the solution of this will certainly be welcomed: therefore we commend the pamphlet just issued. "The Servant Question, a view of the Inner side, "by H.S Drayton Editor, of the Phrenological Journal, containing hints on the choosing and governing of servants, and giving very definite information in regard to the understanding of their characters and dispositions from the form of the Head and Face and other external manifestations. Dr Drayton writes from a practical point of view, and not only does he give suggestions in regard to the selection of servants, but the points made in regard to the management of this part of the household are especially apparent to all who have experience with household affairs. As if to insure its being read by the entire class for whom it is intended, the price is made 10c., which may be sent in stamps, to Fowler & Wells Co., Publishers, 775 Broadway, New York.

Reducing the Surplus.

The disposition of the Surplus in the U. S. Treasury engages the attention of our Statesmen, but a more vital question has our attention, and that is the reduction of the Surplus of Consumptives. Since the discovery and introduction of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, there has been a marked decrease in the mortality from this dreaded disease, and it is possible to still further reduce the number of Consumptives. How? By keeping constantly at had a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and using according to directions, upon the appearance of the first symptoms, such as a Cough, a Cold, a Sore Throat, a Chest, or Side Pain. Taken thus early a cure is guaranteed.

While the farmer is gathering his best crops, the crop of seeds is caring for itself. And it will show results in the spring.

CHOCALATE.

Under this Head we may also include Watta Baker & Co's Broma and Breakfast cocoa as well as Stollwerch Bros. Heart cocoa and Chocolate, all of which are goods of the Highest reputation as well as most excellent quality.

The Heart Cocoa is an excellent beverage wholesome alike for persons of all ages and constitutions, especially for those troubled with weak or impaired digestion. It is warmly recommended by prominent physicians of both hemispheres as a substitute for coffee acting beneficially on the nerves and promoting the action of the heart.

It possesses the following advantage

1st. It is absolutely pure.

2nd. One Heart represents the exact quantity necessary for one cup.

3rd As the Heart cocoa is compressed it is packed in a small space and is less expensive than the powdered cocoa.

4th It will keep in any climate.

5th There is no loss by waste; it is therefore most economical.

6th It is readily dissolved by following the directions for use.

Which are.

One heart is sufficient for a breakfast cup.

Crush the "heart" with a spoon add two tea spoonfuls of boiling water Mix it carefully seeing that all small particles are well dissolved, fill the cup with boiling water or milk (is better), slowly stiring well.

Add sugar to suit your palate and you have a beverage fit for a king, and every American is a sovereign and ought to drink the nectar of the Gods.

This cocoa costs just one cent a cup besides the milk and sugar

There are few simple articles of food which possess so many valuable and important dietey properties as cocoa. While acting on the nerves as a gentle stimulant it provides the body with some of the purest elements of nutrition and at the same time corrects and invigorate the action of the digestive organs.

Medical men of all shades of opinion have agreed in recommending it as the safest and most beneficial article of diet for persons of weak constitutions.

Under this head we may say that while Stollwerch's Heart Cocoa is very convenient and the finest article in the market we keep always on hand "Baker's Breakfast Cocoa" which is a standard article known to all. It is powdered however, but is a pure article it can be used so as to cost a trifle less; than one cent a cup.

All should be acquainted with Bakers Broma which has been a universal favorite for years. It is a combination of the cocoanut and other ingredients innocent, invigorating and agreeable both to invalids and persons in health. The sick can drink it with pleasure when other nurishment is disagreeable or indigestible. As a diet for children nothing is equal to it.

The Princes chocolate is the best in the world, but if you do not want it we can give you other brands,

CHARLES E. Carter, head of the Carter Manufacturing company, a small concern, doing business in Johnstown, went to Pittsburg last Monday morning and has not yet returned, and his absence is looked upon as somewhat mysterious.

THE fact that Robert J. Burdette has been licensed to preach, together with the success of Sam Small, in the pulpit, indicates that reformed humorists are likely to take to the pulpit—when their professional wit has played out.

THE Republican papers print everything Cleveland chooses to say, but the Democratic journals won't print what Harrison says, day after day, to the thousands who call upon him. They refuse to give him a hearing because he has demolished their side something less than a thousand times since he was nominated.

GENERAL HARRISON'S speeches are like bugle blasts. You do not have to read them twice to be sure you get the sense aright. He says what he has to say in clear, plain, forcible Anglo-Saxon, and the boy just beginning to take an interest in politics can understand the meaning as easily as the grey-beard of sixty winters. His speeches are an epitome of Republican doctrines.

CHAIRMAN QUAY is going about things in New York City with his usual courage and method. He is bound to keep down the Democratic majority in that city, and thus increase the Republican majority in the State. Cleveland is beaten unless he gets New York, and Mr. Quay, therefore, proposes that New York shall go for Harrison.

THE Potsdam, (New York) Herald, tells of a Republican pole-raising in that State, where, just as all was ready, a prominent citizen and Democrat stepped forward and said: "Gentlemen! I desire that no Republican hand should be applied to the raising of this pole. There are here nineteen Democrats who crave the honor of doing the job." And so it was done. The Republicans stood back and the nineteen Democrats raised it, as a declaration of their purpose to vote for Harrison and Morton and Protection.

A NEGRO in Memphis, who was attacked in his own house by a couple of white men, killed them both and was released by a justice as having committed the act in self-defense. A Democratic organ makes a great deal of the episode, and wants to know what the Republican leaders will say to it. We should say that it indicates the possession of a slight inkling of civilization on the part of Memphis justice—provided the negro gets off without being shot in the streets.

THE Republican Party has never been in any sense the friend or ally of the whiskey power. As the Danville, Indiana, Republican observes, "There is not a leading Republican daily in the whole country that has not from time to time furiously assailed the saloons. All the prohibition laws ever enacted in the loyal States were enacted by Republicans—always in spite of Democratic opposition. All high license laws and resolutions have been the work of Republicans. Who ever heard of a Democratic law designed to restrict the sale of whiskey?"

Pension News.

The report of pensions for the past week for this locality is summerised as follows:

Henry A. Bamford of this place, receives an increase; also George B. Calderwood, of Mill Hall, Clinton county.

William H. Glass, of Allenville, Mifflin county, receives a restoration of pension; also David Michael, of New Washington, Clearfield county, and John Boon of Lewistown.

A pension has been granted to Elizabeth, mother of Henry Wilson, of Pine Station, Clinton County. Also one to James McConnell Thomas, of Lewistown; John Diehl, of Lewistown, and John C. Hanor, of James Creek, Huntingdon county.

All Kinds of Taste.

Examples of very bad taste are seen daily. Good taste don't seem to be incident to any station in life. We see people who have had the benefits of education and refining influences who dress and act in execrable taste, while others from whom much cannot be expected who give evidence of real taste. In selecting carpets, furniture, dress—everything—taste is essential to produce good effect. For this reason some people never look well no matter how richly attired, because they lack taste; while others, with very little, can produce a good effect, because taste is used in selection and making of materials. If possible cultivate taste.

Autumn School Arbor Day.

DEPARTMENT PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, HARRISBURG.

Many of our schools for various reasons were not able to observe the regular Spring Arbor Day in answer to the Governor's proclamation. We are anxious that the good work so happily begun, may continue and give still larger results for the benefit of the schools, and for the general good of the Commonwealth. It is not necessary to confine Arbor Day work exclusively to the planting of trees. The proper grading of school-grounds, the removal of stones and all refuse, the careful guarding of trees against the winter winds, the protection of tender shrubbery from destructive frosts, the dissemination of useful information on the subject of fruit and shade trees, of forestry, and landscape gardening, the gathering and storage of seeds for the next Spring's planting, botanic lessons especially devoted to the flora of the district, with definite reports from season to season of what has been done in the locality, what good results have followed therefrom, and what it is proposed shall yet be done—all these are proper subjects for Arbor Day observance, and well deserve attention.

Such digression from the ordinary routine of school work will be profitable to the children in many ways. It will give them some sense of what they themselves can do by organized effort having some definite aim in view. It will challenge them each and all, to take part in work for the general good, and help to awaken a proper pride in the appearance of the whole neighborhood in which they live. It will add to their habits an aesthetic culture which will increase with their increasing years; and the vision of what their own hands have done in beautifying their school grounds and improving and adding value to their home surroundings will delight them more and more, as season follows season, through not only their school life, but that more mature life of manhood and womanhood for which, in large part, the school is designed to make preparation.

To further the work thus briefly referred to, and carry out more fully the intent of the thoughtful proclamation of Arbor Day by his Excellency, Governor Beaver, we hereby appoint Friday, October 19, as an Autumn School Arbor Day, and earnestly urge upon Superintendent's, Teachers, and School Officers throughout the State, the propriety of using every effort to forward this important work, employing such means as their good judgment may direct. We shall regard the day as duly observed if those schools, which being closed, or for other reasons, did not observe the Spring Arbor Day, set this apart for similar ends: and the Teachers' report to their respective Superintendents what improvements were made to their school grounds, with the number of trees, shrubs and vines planted; and the Superintendents forward to this Department a synopsis of the reports of the Teachers not later than November 15th.

E. E. HIGBEE.

Harrison and Morton.

On Saturday, Oct. 13th, at 2½ p. m., the protectionists of Howard and vicinity will raise a Harrison and Morton pole and swing to the breeze the stars and stripes. In the evening there will be a mass meeting which all who prefer American institutions to British are invited to attend. The issues of the day will be discussed by able speakers from a distance. The Howard Band will be present and enliven the meeting with excellent protection music.

On Saturday large delegations of Republicans from Eagleville, Curtins Works and Milesburg will go to Howard. Each delegation will be accompanied by a band. There will be a Harrison and Morton pole raising at Howard and these delegations will assist in the demonstration. With such large delegations and so much music the result will be an immensely enthusiastic meeting. Still later we hear there will also be delegations from Marsh Creek and Marion township. Hurrah, this will be one of the greatest events of the campaign.

Six thousand pounds of powder were set off at a single blast in San Francisco, causing a trembling of the earth for miles around akin to that produced by an earthquake. The charge was fired in a quarry on Telegraph Hill, and dislodged, it is estimated, from 30,000 to 50,000 tons of rock.

THE CRIPPLE.

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 17, 1883.

Mr. Lewis Dennis, 136 Moody St., says: "Orin Robinson, a boy of 13, came to his house in 1881 on crutches, his left knee bent for two months and could not be straightened. He gave him St. Jacobs Oil to rub on it. In six days he had no use for crutches and went home without them."

THE CURE.

Lowell, Mass., July 9, 1887.

Gentlemen:—Mr. Lewis Dennis has just called upon me, and informs me that the boy Orin Robinson, who was a poor cripple on crutches, and was cured by St. Jacobs Oil in 1881; the cure has remained permanent. The young man has been and is now at work every day at manual labor; a case certainly which proves the efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil. GEO. C. OSGOOD, M.D.

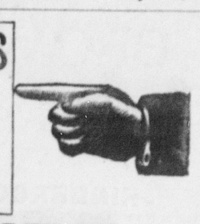
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

WM. RADAM'S

MICROBE KILLER

The Great GERM or BACTERIA DESTROYER.

To Cure Disease, Remove the Cause.

Physicians, by scientific researches, have discovered that Germs or Baccilli commonly called Microbes, are the cause of disease.

The MICROBE KILLER CURES by destroying the microbes; at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the system. Mr. Radam has established Factory No. 4 in Philadelphia.

Office at 819 Arch Street.

Invalids and persons suffering from CATARRH, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, Diseases of the Blood, etc., by writing or calling at above address, will receive circulars giving the history of the MICROBE KILLER and the cures it has made. Agencies will be established in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and District of Columbia, which this Factory will supply. This Germicide is

A SURE RESTORATIVE TO HEALTH.

Eureka Salt.

Common salt is either procured from the solid crystaline state called "Rock salt," a natural brine from wells or springs or by the evaporation of sea water. In the first case it is obtained by mining often at great depths, as at Northwich in Cheshire; Salzburg, Magdeburg, Berchtesgaden and Wimpfen in Germany, Cracow in Poland; in the Punjab and other parts of the world.

Rock salt in its native state often contains impurities and therefore is dissolved in water and the insoluble matters mixed with it are deposited at the bottom. The brine is then drawn off and evaparated by artificial heat in large iron pans. When the evaporation has proceeded to a certain extent the liquid assumes a reddish color; a pellicle of salt forms on its surface, which soon breaks, and sinks down, to be followed by another; and the crystalization then proceded rapidly When complete, the salt is removed to sheds open at the sides, and then piled in heaps, in order that the chloride of Magnesium may be removed This is very easy, for as it is extremely deliquescent, it liquefiies by exposure to the atmosphere, and runs out. The salt is then redissolved and crystallized, if great fineness and purity is wanted, which should be the case with all salt used either on the table or making butter or other domestic purposes. The salt sold by the Eureka Grocery Company is made with the same care as described, from which all impurities has been removed as we have stated. It is the purest article in the world and is sold for the same price as the inferior salt that is constantly put upon the market. If we want good health we should use pure salt. If we want good butter use pure salt. Cheap as it is there is no more important article of home consumption and we should use some care to have it good. We must not think that any salt will do, none should do but the very best. We have it in all size bags 2 pounds 3-5-7-14 28-56 and 140. We have also a small quantity of Turks Island salt for salting meat. It is superior to anything in the market, in fact the Turks Island salt has had a reputation for more than a hundred years as being the best salt for that purpose in the world. It is also prefered by ice cream makers. Call and see us, not only to buy salt but everything else in the grocery line, of which we keep a fine stock. Eureka Grocery Co. —Bellefonte is a lively town.

—The borough schools are largely attended.

—Houses are still in demand. Build some more.

—The crop reports this week are generally good.

—Some of the churches had small congregations Sunday evening.

—The water pipes on Curtin street are being laid deeper to prevent freezing.

—There is to be a Harrison and Morton pole raising at Howard on Saturday.

—The Curwensville Review, at the commencement of Vol. 8, will be changed from a five column quarto to seven column folio.

—The heating and ventilating system such as is in use in the new school house on Bishop street is now being put in one of Tyrone's school houses.

—There was quite a serious accident on the Pennsylvania railroad on Sunday at the station named Walls. The Chicago limited ran into what is known as the Greensburg express. The consequence of ruinous and wicked Sunday travel.

—Nature is now hanging her flaming banners out. Next to the stars and stripes they are the most beautiful things in creation, and their glory should cause the old bandana to hide itself in some place which is conspicuous only for its remoteness and obscurity.

—One of the prettiest flowers that blooms in the autumn, tra la, is the anemone japonica. Two bushes of them are in blossom in the yard of E. T. Tuten, Esq. Mrs. T. has much success and taste with her flowers and these are only a specimen of many that are equally beautiful.

—Mrs. Annie Orendorff, wife of Henry Orendorff, died at Jacksonville of consumption, Oct 7th. Her funeral took place 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon and her remains interred at Jacksonville cemetry. She was aged about 40 years and has been a sufferer for more than a year past.

—The death of a very aged man occurred on Tuesday night. Mr. Patrick Nolan died at the residence of his son-in-law, Thoms Hickey, near the nail works. Mr. Nolan was the father of Messrs. Edward and Jeremiah Nolan and of Mrs. Murply, of Snow Shoe. He was more than 80 years of age. The funeral will occur on this (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock, services to be held in the Catholic church.

—Good building weather is what the people are longing for. It has been the rule for the last six weeks that an average of not more than two hours work could be done each day out doors. This has prevented progress being made on the rebuilding of Garmans Hotel and their brick stable. Mr. Mingle's new residence, which is to be erected this fall, has not yet advanced any higher than the foundation.

A New Saw Mill.

Capt. Henry Holter of Howard, has the contract for the erection of a large saw mill for P. B. Crider & Son, in Warren Co., Pa., and last Monday left for that locality to commence operations. The Capt. took with him, for his assistants, Messrs. N. S. Sanders, Al. Bathurst, John Glenn, Dan Holter and Michael Holter, all good mechanics. P. B. Crider & Son were fortunate in securing the services of Capt. Holter who is not only a skilled mechanic but an energetic and successful contractor.

An Extraordinary Fish.

A most interesting discovery has been made in the sea of Tiberias of a fish which incubates its young in the cavities of the mouth, and, what is more remarkable, it is the female that performs this part of the family function. As soon as the female deposits its eggs in the hollow of the sand the male approaches and draws them into the cavities of its mouth by the process of aspiration. Here they are distributed between the leaves of the gills, and in the midst of the respiratory organ's the eggs rapidly develop, distending the mouth of the male fish in the most extraordinary manner. Finally the young fishes make their appearance, pocked in the gills like so many herrings, all with their heads directed toward the opening. From this place of safety and retreat they run in and out until they are large enough to take care of themselves. It is said that as many as two hundred of these eggs are sometimes crowded into the mouth and gills of the male fish.

A PLEASANT HABIT.—Some people have a habit of assenting to everything said to them, without regard to rhyme or reason—"Oh, yes!" "Certainly!" "No, indeed!" "Of course!" "Yes, indeed!" "You are quite right!" and the like. Mrs. Hendricks is one of these people

"I think said Mrs. Hobson, who was making a call "that little Miss Smith is one of the stupidest girls I ever met, and —"

"Isn't she!" interrupted Mrs. Hendricks.

"And so plain—"

"Dreadfully!"

"Now, I haven't much beauty myself, but—"

"No, indeed," said Mrs. Hendricks, cordially.—Ex.

Don't give up, my poor, sick friend;
While there's life there's hope, 'tis said;
Sicker persons often mend;
Time to give up when you're dead.
Purer, richer blood you need;
Strength and tone your system give;
This advice be wise and heed—
Take the G M D and live.

Don't hawk, hawk, blow, spit, and disgust everybody with your offensive breath but use Dr. Sage' Catarrh Remedy and end it.

—The apron fair to be held by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. will be the last of this month. It will be an important event and quite extensive arrangements for it are now in progress. The ladies also desire it to be known that there is nothing sectarian or political about their organization and thus they appeal to all classes.

—Robert J. Burdette, easily the first American humorist, has entered the Baptist ministry. This, it is to be hoped, does not mean that the current of pure humor that has made Burdette famous is to cease.—Ex.

Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empirics of every false school have their gulls. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, indorsed by the press of many lands, sought and prized by invalids everywhere It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint and constipation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a peerless invigorant and useful diuretic. Nervous people benefit by it.

—Another sad shooting occurred on Saturday in Sinking Valley, Blair county. Clarence Edmundson and his brother-in-law, Samuel Cooley, went out hunting. Cooley took aim at a squirrel and not noticing that Edmundson had stepped in range of his gun discharged the weapon, the charge entering Edmundson's back. The wound was fatal and Edmundson died a few hours afterwards.

We are willing to bear personal testimony to the efficacy and value of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have been advertising some years in our paper, having used it for blood impurities with great success. It is a preparation of standard merit, made of perfectly pure ingredients and thoroughly effective in cleansing and purifying the system. For eruptions, boils, etc., it can be relied upon every time. Our own experience with it has been most gratifying, and we are glad to give it this endorsement.—Athol (Mass.) Transcript —An attempt was made on Sunday morning to set fire to the lumber in the yard at the planing mill of Hipple & Wilson, in Lock Haven. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

The best reform in domestic life is without doubt the introduction of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Where it is known no more laudanum is given to the babies.

An excellent remedy. Laxador is superior as a cathartic to any other in all cases in which a purgative is employed. Only 25 cents a bottle.

The Oft Told Story

Of the peculiar medicinal merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully confirmed by the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried it. Peculiar in the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme care with which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in the unequalled good name it has made at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained, is the most popular and successful medicine before the public today for purifying the blood, giving strength, creating an appetite.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I suffered from wakefulness and low spirits, and also had eczema on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for this medicine." MRS. J. S. SNYDER, Pottsville, Penn.

Purifies the Blood

Henry Biggs, Campbell Street, Kansas City, had scrofulous sores all over his body for fifteen years. Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured him.

Wallace Buck, of North Bloomfield, N. Y., suffered eleven years with a terrible varicose ulcer on his leg, so bad that he had to give up business. He was cured of the ulcer, and also of catarrh, by QUEEN MUM.

Of all the pet names of the chrysanthemum Queen Mum is the latest, as appears in an elaborate article on this new craze in flower culture in the September American Garden, of New York, which has several bright and attractive papers on this popular flower, the "queen of autumn" and a close rival of the rose public favor. Other attractive features of the September Garden are illustrated articles on some big cherries, new apples and other fruit, Charles Barnard's papers on "The Home Lot" conclude with a statement of the remarkable results in vegetables and health, from his 25x60 ft, garden. Greenhouse construction, landscape gardening, farm embellishment, etc., complete a highly valuable number of this foremost of gardening periodicals, of which the price is only $1.00 a year. E. H Libby, publisher, 51 Broadway, New York.

The decline of suckling power among American women is the theme of a thoughtful article by Dr L. M. Yale in the October number of BABYHOOD, which ought to command a wide aucience. There is undoubtedly a marked diminutioff of the milk-giving power among the women of our land, and the medical editor of BABYHOOD attempts an explanation of its cause, which will be read with great interest. "Laxative Food," by Dr. Jerome Walker, and "Excessive Wax in the Ears of Children," by Dr. Charles H. May, are other articles which will prove valuable to all mothers. There are also reasonable editorial remarks on proper clothing for children; an amusing article on "A Novelty in Nurse;" letters on the danger from chewing gum, on the proper way of administering medicine to infants, the care of delicate children, etc., etc. The "Nursery Problem" deal with "Long and Thick Hair is a cause of Weakness," "The Turning In or Out of the Toes," "Mal Nutrition," "Sore mouth," "Black Heads," and other interesting topics. Miss Francis E. Willard gives her own version of what she thinks on the doll question, and closes a discussion in which the whole country has been interested. 15 cents a number; $1.20 a year, BABYHOOD Publishing Co., 5 Beekman Street, New York.

Interesting to writers.

Invaluable advice, hints and suggestions for literary writers are given in the October number of The Writer (Boston). How to write a story," The Importance of Style in Newspaper Work," "The Writer's Aim" "To Author-Publishers," Whittier's Advice to a boy, My Struggle With the Short Story, The Illustration of Magazine articles, and What are Newspaper Ethics? are the titles of some of the bright and helpful articles contributed by experienced writers to an unusually interesting issue of this novel magazine. Beginners and experts in writing alike find The Writer valuable. Its editor is a practical newspaper man of long experience, and he has secured the cooperation of well-known literary people. The Writer, which is now approaching the end of its second volume, is simply indispensable to all who write. Its price is one dollar a year, ten cents a number, and its address is, The Writer P. O. Box 1905, Boston, Mass.

"There are millions in it" said a druggist when asked about Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cts.

Master's Sale.

MASTER'S SALE.—By virtue of a decree of sale made in the Court of Common Please of Centre county, sitting in Equity, in the proceedings in Partition, wherein George D. Morgan is Plaintiff and Edwin D. Morgan, Jr., and others are Defendants, the undersigned, a Master specially appointed by said Court to conduct the sale, will offer at public auction, at the Court House in Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., on Tuesday, the 23rd day of October, 1888, beginning at 10.30 o'clock a. m. the valuable real estate commonly known as "The Morgan, Hale & Co. Lands," comprising:

1st. About 12,350 acres of unseated lands situated in Rush township, Centre county, and Boggs, Decatur, Morris and Woodward townships, Clearfield county, being tracts and parts of tracts surveyed upon warrants to Thomas Allison, Jacob Stoust, William Potter, John McClellan, John Eberman, James Morrison, Hugh McIntire, John Lowden, Michael Ross, Alex Scott, Matthew Slough, Frederick Dorsch, Paul Zentzinger, John Graff, John Hambright, Josiah McElwaine, Ferguson McElwaine, Martin Ehler, Henry Slough, Matthias Slough, Thomas Grant, Martin Myer, Samuel Rankin, Daniel Witmer, Christ Huber, Davis Old, Richard Atherton, John Reed, Robert Gray, William Evans, John Montgomery, Hugh Ely, Jacob Denning, John Drinker, Richard Thomas, Henry Drinker, John Skyren, Benjamin Wilson, and Mark Freeman, together with the rights, liberties, etc., appurtenant thereto. A considerable portion of these lands is underlaid with an excellent quality of bituminous coal and the facilties for ready transportation afforded by the Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad, and the Beech Creek Railroad, (both of which pass through parts of these lands) make them among the most desirable coal lands in the market, and as such especially deserving the attention of operators and capitalists—Title indisputable.

2nd. 19 Building-lots about 66 feet wide by 250 feet deep, in the borough of Philipsburg, Centre county, one numbered 108, on the general plan thereof, situated on the South-West corner of South, Centre and Hickory Streets, and the others situated between Locust and Pine and North Centre and 6th Streets and numbered respectively 113, 114, 115, 116, 120, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 156, 157, 158, 187, 188, 189, 190, and 191, on the general plan of said Borough.

Also eleven unnumbered parcels of land in said Borough and in Rush township, aforesaid immediately adjacent thereto, equivalent to about 42 Town lots and situated mostly between Locust St. and the Railroad to Morrisdale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One third cash and balance in one and two years with interest secured by Bond and Mortgage. A reasonable deposit will be required when the property is struck down.

For any further information desired, application may be made to D. F. Merritt, Esq., No. 54, Exchange Place, New York City, or to the undersigned at Bellefonte Penna

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.—In the Orphan's Court of Centre County, estate of Frances M. Atherton, deceased, the undersigned, an auditor appointed by said Court to hear and pass upon the exceptions filed to the first account and also the second account of T. F. Adams, executor of, etc., of Frances M. Atherton, deceased, and to make distribution of the balance in the hands of said accountant to and among those legally entitled there to, will attend to the duties of his appointment at his office in the borough of Bellefonte on Friday, the 12th day of October, A. D., 1888, at 10 o'clock a. m. Parties interested will present their claims before the auditor or be debarred from coming in on the fund. JOHN KLINE, Auditor. 20 38 3t

—The steam heat is being put in Mrs. Montgomery's residence, Allegheny St.

—Why, asks a thoughtful individual, is Mr. Cleveland like a tree? Because he leaves (the White House) in the Spring.

—Ex-policeman Joshua Folk is now engaged in the work of selling kerosene, vending it in large cans through the streets.

—Robert Kern, son of John and Susan Kern, of Millheim, died in Minnesota on Monday of typhoid fever. The body was brought home and the interment occurred in Millheim to-day.

—The off set in the pavement in front of the office in which this paper is printed has been repaired, which fact will enable many persons to travel through life more evenly and pleasantly.

—The festival in the Rink on Thursday evening for the benefit of the A. M. E. church was successful. A cake walk was one of the exercises, George Freeman taking the cake. He must be a daisy walker.

—A large quantity of excellent building stone is being taken out from the cut now in progress on East Curtin street. We understand that the Lutherans will purchase it for the foundation of their new church edifice.

—The indictment for highway robbery and also the one for the murder of Nora Culvey are still hanging over the head of John W. Johnson and he can be arrested and tried for either at any time. He is now at his home in Hublersburg, this State.

—We are informed that the work on the new Methodist Church building at Pleasant Gap is still in progress, but will soon be completed. The improvements will render it handsome and attractive. It is probable that the reopening services will be held on the last Sunday in this month.

—Because of the approach of winter the price of coal oil is increasing. If the reason for this is that the dealers expect that Marindy Jane and Samuel Adolphus are going to sit up late and burn oil they reckon without their host. The young folks will likely sit up late, but for all they care the oil can go to blazes.

—If the new Methodist church building at the Rock is completed as soon as appearance now indicates it will be dedicated during November. In building this church and paying for it (as it is said that the financial part is in good condition) Rev. Mr. Sarvis and his congregation at that place have done remarkably well.

—Miss Shade, whose home is four miles east of Wolf's Store, recently saw a large bear while on her way to singing school. That is, Miss Shade was on her way to singing school as it is not known positively which way Mr. Bear was going. Miss Shade ran away from the bear and is now safe as the bear, if he did run after her, did not run fast enough and failed to overtake her.

—An improvement which is infusing great additional life into our always lively neighboring city of Altoona, is the erection of new shops by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Hoover, Humes & Company, have the contract for the new paint shop. This firm seems to be securing contracts for an unusually large number of the best buildings and is a credit to the enterprise of its gentlemanly propreitors.

—The Odd Fellows feasted at Ceader's oyster parlors on Thursday evening and thus installed the newly elected officers in handsome style. It is a custom which the members of this order always adhere to and never fail to derive much enjoyment from it. We acknowledge a most earnest invitation from Mr. Girard Minsker and other members of the order to be present and participatein the feast.

—A New York correspondent writes that it is the exception and not the rule for thelsons of rich men in that city to squander their patrimony, and say: "The Vanderbilts are rapidly increasing their wealth, the Astors have never known a prodigal in their family, the Goelets of to-day are as thrifty as their ancestors, Peter Cooper's wealth is in good hands, and Jay Gould appears to have no son who will throw away his money."

—On Friday afternoon we noticed that Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., was moving articles of furniture into his new house on Linn street. The house is not yet completed, but he had to vacate the residence which he has been occupying and so was storing away the furniture until the elegant new house is sufficiently completed for occupancy. The residence is most admirably planned and finished in handsome style. Entrance leads into a spacious hall from thence to the left is the parlor, the woodwork of which will be finished in handsome style. Beneath the stairway is a toilet and cloak room very complete in its arrangement. The dining room in the rear is finished in cherry with a rich inlaid floor. To the left of this is the library, all of one side of which is devoted to the reception of books, the shelves being built in the wall. This room is in antique oak. Further back are the rooms in which the culinary operations will be carried on and are complete. The residence is thoroughly equipped with all the modern conveniences and is rich throughout in its design and finish.

AN ARTISTIC LOG CABIN.

THE UNIQUE STUDIO ERECTED FOR A YOUNG LADY OF BELLEFONTE.

In the spacious grounds of Mrs. Reuben Valentine, only a short distance south of the residence, is a handsome log house. Yes, it is handsome, the logs being regular in size and the finishing of the house tasteful in style. This interesting and striking structure was erected under the superintendence of Miss Caroline Valentine for her own use as a studio. It is very substantially built and will last a century.

All the logs used in the building were obtained on Mrs. Valentine's land near by. Mr. George Miller did the carpenter work in the best style and Mr. John Noll did the mason work for the foundations of this solid and enduring structure.

We had the pleasure of looking at the interior on Friday afternoon. On the north is one broad window admitting a flood of light, it being desirable that all the light for artistic effect shall come from one direction. It is heated by the fire which roars and crackles in a large brick fireplace, finished with brass andirons, crane and every other device of utility. The furniture of the house, which is not yet quite complete, includes three chairs, three rustic stools, a table liberally supplied with china, a a buffalo robe on the floor, etc.

We do not know that Miss Caroline had any thought of politics in her mind when she planned this design of a log cabin studio, but it suits excellently with the memories of William Henry Harrison's log cabin campaign which General Benjamin Harrison's candidacy revives.

When all the interior arrangements are completed its fair owner and occupant expects to give a house warming, when her friends will be bidden to admire the novelty of the structure, while the refreshments to which they will be treated will be such rustic dishes as can be prepared in a log cabin and at a fireplace. Roast chestnuts will be a sumptuous center piece while pop corn will decorate the side dishes. Five o'clock tea will follow.

The structure is really of much interest and will afford a novel retreat during the chill autumn days when warm fires and good cheer are the desiderato for comfort.

—The editor of the Millheim Journal will live on apples this winter. He advertises for each of his subscribers to to bring him a few bushels of apples on subscription. Well, apples are wholesome, and it is generally stated that if apples could take the place of potatoes and meat to some extent people would be better for it, while no desert is more nutritious than baked apples.

—Frank E. Bible demonstrated at the banquet, Thursday evening, that he has a wonderful capacity in stowing away oysters and ice cream.

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2901 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

TWO IMPORTANT MEETINGS.

Acceptance of Mr. Swalley's Resignation, Election of Officers, Etc.

Friday evening was of considerable consequence in the history of the Young Men's Christian Association. An adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors was held at 7 o'clock. At a previous session of this meeting Mr. Allan C. Swalley had tendered his resignation of the general secretaryship and it was accepted by the Board on Friday evening. Other business attended to related to the placing of the association on a better financial basis.

At 8 o'clock the annual meeting was held for the election of officers and receiving reports. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—A. A. Lukenbach.
Vice President—J. C. Weaver.
Secretary—James R. Hughes.
Treasurer—L. A. Schaeffer.

Executive Committee—H. Y. Stitzer, W. S. Zeller, J. W. Gephart, Jno. C. Miller, David M. Lieb, D. S. Keller, G. W. Rees, N. S. Bailey.

On motion the time for holding the anniversary of the Association was fixed for the Second Sunday in November and Messrs. L. A. Shaeffer, Charles Shuey and N. S. Bailey appointed a committee of arrangements.

The following expression of the sentiment of the Association in reference to the retirement of the general secretary, was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors has accepted the resignation of Mr. Allan C. Swalley, the General Secretary,

Resolved, That we part from him with much regret. We take pleasure in stating that during the time he has been connected with the association we have found him a young gentleman of the most exemplary deportment, most consistent Christian character and highest sense of honor, possessing excellent qualifications for the position. In bidding him farewell we also bid him "God speed" and are unanimous in the wish that he may achieve the abundant success he deserves in whatever pursuit he may adopt. Be it further

Resolved, That this brief but earnest expression of our esteem for him be recorded with the minutes of this meeting.

In Memory of a Young Man.

The Board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., at its meeting on Friday evening, adopted the following very appropiate expression of its sentiments in regard to the death of a highly esteemed member:

S. A. STOVER, DECEASED.

THE Young Men's Christian Association of Bellefonte testifies most heartily to the quiet yet decided Christian character of S. Abram Stover, whose conduct as an active member and whose fidelity as an officer of this Association made him a worthy exemplar to all. In company with those who mourn the loss of son and brother, this Association joins in lamenting the loss of a member who by chaste and honorable living adorned the doctrine of Christ, our Saviour, in all things. To preserve the memory of our deceased brother this memorial is hereby ordered to be inscribed on the minutes of the Association.

J. W. GEPHART,
D. N LIEB,
A. C. SWALLEY, } Committee.

—In addition to what is expressed in the report of the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. published in this paper, in reference to Mr. Allan C. Swalley, the writer feels impelled to pay personal testimony to the esteem which he entertains for this young gentleman. Mr. Swalley, though quite young, is a gentleman of the most liberal learning, highest intellectual endowments, and advanced culture. He is personally highly favored and of a most winning and gracious disposition. His conduct is always chivalrous and manly, involving the most exalted type of Christian character. These qualities of mind, heart, and person are rarely combined so richly. His influence is wide and potent while it is all for what is good in life. The town can not afford to lose such a citizen.

—The $40 tendered the "Women's Guild," by the Dramatic Club being refused because some of the Guild object to receive money made by theatricals, it will be devoted, during the coming winter, to charities in our town. A committee will be appointed to properly dispense all monies.

—A child of Mr. William Thompson, of this place, died on Wednesday, of diphtheria. It is the second death in his family of this disease within eleven weeks. The child was about two years old. The funeral will be this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Alfred Gross and John Miller of Hyndman, Bedford county, were instantly killed on Friday morning by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a companion.

Our Candidate for President

He will be nominated by the convention and will be elected by the people, because he will come the nearest to filling their ideal of a Chief Magistrate. Electric Bitters has been given the highest place because no other medicine has so well filled the the ideal of a periect tonic and alterative. The people have indorsed Electric Bitters and rely upon this great remedy in all troubles of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. For all Malarial Fevers and diseases caused by Malarial Poisons, Electric Bitters can not be too highly recommended. Also cures Headache and Constipation. Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50c. and $1 at W. C. Kepfinger & Co's Drug Store.

He has introduced it into various schools and it is endorsed by several states men and educators. For particulars, consult him either in person or by letter at Blanchard P. O., Centre Co., Pa.

ITEMS FROM PRESBYTERY.

Very Interesting Sessions Held on Wednesday.

The application of Rev. E L. Craven, of Birmingham, to dissolve the pastoral relations with his congregation was granted. The business which followed was the report of the standing committees.

The Presbyterial delegates to Synod, which will meet in Erie, were elected—eight ministers and a similar number of elders. Rev. William Laurie, D. D., and Mr. J. C. Weaver, of this place, and Rev. Robert Hamill, D. D., of Lemont, were among the delegates chosen.

The Duncansville church asked for a Presbyterial appropriation of $250 and $100 was granted.

An invitation came from Dr. Atherton, President of the State College, to visit that institution in the afternoon. The invitation was accepted and the assembling of the afternoon session postponed until 4 o'clock. The forty ministers and thirty laymen visited the College and inspected it thoroughly. They were delighted with what they saw there. They found the students busily and profitably engaged at their studies, at recitations, at industrial employments, including all kinds of work in iron and wood, and were surprised with its magnitude and its evidences of promise. The grounds, the plans for the future and the surroundings also attracted their notice. They found it to be a greater institution than they had imagined, and perhaps the best evidence of this is the fact that they devoted the entire afternoon to it and did not return in time to hold the afternoon session, so they did not meet again until evening.

The most important item of business in the evening was the examination of two candidates for the meeting. One was a Mr. Jack who was received under the care of Presbytery. He is a very bright young gentleman. The other candidate is an exceedingly interesting young man, He is a converted Hebrew. Entering College in New York state, he was converted to Christianity. He resolved to enter the ministry and received a call from the Lost Creek church in Juniata county, in the bounds of this Presbytery. He accordingly received his first examination by the New York Presbytery and was dismissed to the Huntingdon Presbytery. We understand the examination proved satisfactory, and when Presbytery adjourns it will be to meet at Lost Creek church on the 2nd Tuesday of November for the purpose of ordaining this gentleman, whose name is Mr. Louie.

The business of the evening session was preceded by an hour of devotional exercises which was enjoyable to all. A majority of the delegates returned to town on Thursday and went on their way homeward, though the concluding session was held this morning. Rev. E. H. Mateer was appointed to preach the missionary sermon on the occasion of the next stated meeting. At that morning's session the place for the next meeting of Presbytery was selected.

A Brilliant Wedding.

From the Syracuse Standard we take the following description of a wedding in which many persons in this community are interested, and at which Mr. James Milliken of this place was one of the guests :

"The people who saw Foster Milliken of New York and Miss Louisa Ward married at St. Paul's Cathedral on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock were charmed with the prettiness and simplicity of the arrangement. Though a wedding at the Cathedral without the procession of choir boys in their flowing surplices would be rather odd than otherwise, the little pomp it gave the occasion left no impression of display or conspicuousness. There was too an unusual air of solemnity about this wedding. It united two old and distinguished families. The bride comes of one of the most aristocratic households of Pennsylvania, whose founders linked their fame with the history of the country. George Clymer, the great grandfather of the bride, was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Dr. Benjamin Rush, from whom Mr. Milliken is decended, also enrolled his name on the same scroll. Both families, united by the ceremony, therefore boast revolutionary ancestry. Few brides within our recollection have looked so entirely lovely in festal attire, and as she turned to go after the impressive rite had been performed by the rector, Rev. H. R. Lockwood, S. T. D., leaning confidently on the arm of her handsome young husband, there were audible signs of congratulation all around. The gown the bride wore was of white watered silk, trimmed with rare point lace, an heirloom of the family. The bridesmaids' dresses were of white faille and tulle. The only ornament worn by the bride was a string of pearls, with a diamond crescent, the gift of the groom. All the ladies in the bridal group carried sumptuous bouquets of roses and lillies of the valley. The bride presented her maids with lace pins, and the groom his ushers with scarf pins of four-leafed clover with diamond centers. The ushers were : H. M. Cornell, D. Vallentine, Jr., and L. G. Black, of New York. R. F. Murray, of Plainfield, N. J., Ulysses Mercur of Towanda, Pa., and William Dean Hawley of this city. Miss Milliken of New York, a sister of the groom, and Miss Bessie Ward, a sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids, and Miss Sallie Overton, of Towanda, Pa., a cousin of the bride, the maid-of-honor. Only a few friends had been asked verbally or by note to meet the groom and his friends after the ceremony at the residence of James M. Ward, the bride's father, No. 134 West Onondago street."

POLLING PLACES.

A great deal is said in regard to the practice of voters in Benner and Spring townships voting in this place. The judges throughout the State seem to give conflicting decisions in regard to the propriety of voters in the townships casting their votes in the boroughs erected out of their territory. So far as we are concerned, it seems the safest plan to appoint a polling place within the township. We notice that the people of Spring and Benner townships are instructed to vote as usual, at the Court House here. Judge Barnett, of the Juniata Perry Judicial District, defends the right, and we give the more important part of his decision as follows:

Residence in a legally created election district for two months preceeding the election, is one of those qualifications. If the citizen possesses also the other three required in the fisrt section of the eighth article of the constitution, he is entitled to vote at such polling place as has been designated by law for his district. But the polling place is no part of the quallfications of a voter. It is something outside of and distinct from him altogether. Just as the ability to see is a faculty of the individual, but visible objects form no part of that faculty. And the offer to vote is an act, wholly distinct from a qualification. Judge Woodward says, "To offer to vote by ballot, is to present oneself, with proper per qualifications at the time and place appointed and to make manual delivery of the ballot to the officers appointed to receive it." See Chas vs. Miller 41, Pa., 419. If the qualified residents of a township present themselves at the proper time and at a polling place in an adjacent borough appointed for that township, and deliver their ballots to the officers appointed by law to receive them, I am very clearly of the opinion that such ballots are invested with every characteristic of legal votes, and are quite as much entitled to be counted as if the polling place had been within the township lines.

Ordered to a New Field.

The Reverend Carroll L. Bates, who has been in this region for the past six weeks in the capacity of P. E. Missionary to the Chapel of St. Saviors at Decatur, and Church of the Good Snepherd at Ashcroft, said "good bye" and returned to his home at Titusville on Monday, to the regret of all in the community who knew him. He is a very agreeable young gentleman socially, and is possessed of a great deal of ability as a prescher. His departure was especially lamented by the people at Decatur, who liked him very much and besought him to remain. He goes (after a short visit to his friends at Titusville) to Indiana, Pa., to take charge of the parish. On Sunday, by request of the Rector, the Rev. Dr. F. J. Clerc, Mr. Bates preached morning and evening to the congregation of St. Paul's P. E. church in town. His sermons were very interesting, finely delivered and the subject of much complimentary remark. The young priest made many friends in Philipsburg, who will remember his short residence here with much pleasure.—Philipsburg Ledger.

The Same Trip After Sixty Years.

Sixty years ago, in the antirailway days, it is recorded, Father Allport, of of Philipsburg, drove from Philadelphia to his home, a distance of two hundred miles, with his horse and wagon. He kept a record of the events of the trip which is still preserved and is most entertaining reading. On Saturday of last week, his son, Herbert Allport, after spending some time with friends at Media, came to Philadelphia and started to drive the very same trip over the same roads. He also kept a record of his trip and when compared with that of his father it will be a fair comparison which more than a half of the changes century have wrought.

Doing Good Work.

During the month of August the average daily number of persons who visited the Young Men's Christian Association reading room and took advantage of its privileges exceeded fifty. During September the average was more than forty. This proves that it is of vast benefit to and very popular with the people. So far as circumstances will permit it is doing the work for which it is intended. As there are so many ways of evil the deterring and correcting influence of an attractive resort and good literature seems absolutely essential.

—On Saturday night last the large barns, together with all their contents, belonging to E. J. Nicely & White Campbell, of Ligonier township, Westmoreland county, were totally destroyed by fire. The fiers were not discovered by the owners until it was too late to rescue anything from the flames. Mr. Nicely's loss is about $3,000, with $1,000 insurance, and Mr. Campbell's loss will reach $2,000, with an insurance of $1,200. The origin of the fire is supposed to be incendiary.

THE FAMOUS FEAST.

Which Followed the Formal Installation of Officers.

Centre Lodge No 153, I. O. O. F. is certainly the most enterprising secret order in Bellefonte. It has the reputation of being pretty well off financially, and certainly does everything in handsome style. After a prosperous year it has elected and installed a list of officers who will add to its influence and prestige. The formal installation took place last evening, into the mysteries of which ceremony we will not intrude.

About fifty gentlemen, including members of the Lodge here and also of the Milesburg Lodge were entertained by the new officers at Ceader's ice cream and oyster parlor. It lasted until nearly 12 o'clock. The banquet was an entire success. The officers elective and appointive whose installation this event celebrated are :

N. G, William T. Hillibish.
V. G., James D. Seibert.
Secretary, H. B. Pontius.
Assistant Secretary, A. W. Hafer.
Treasurer, H. H. Benner.

Of Interest to Voters.

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Dispatch October 4 : Judge Stowe, to-day, made a ruling that is of interest to all voters. The court decided the case of the registration and assessment of John M. Egerton in the Third district of the Thirtieth ward, Pittsburgh, who asked to have the registering assessor put his name on the list so that he could pay his taxes and vote, claiming that it is the assessor's business to see that all citizens are registered. The application was made by William H. Burker. The court said :

"It is not the business of the assessor to see that all voters in his district are registered, but that duty devolves upon each voter, and if he is not registered and is not entitled to a vote, it is his own fault. The court has no jurisdiction over an assessor unless he refuses to register a voter. He cannot be brought in on legal process for simply leaving a man's name off the list, or any apparently unintentional mistake.

"My own case is an example. I have changed my place of residence within the past few weeks, and in my location I doubt if I am registered, and if I am not it is my own fault, because I should have seen to it, and as I have not I suppose I have lost my right to vote. The application to require the registration of this man is refused."

—One night last week forty-seven large pieces of bagage were received on the train at this place. Of course, when baggage is received at night it is seldom taken away until next morning. This condition of affairs renders it necessary for the railroad company to include a large baggage room in the station building they are now erecting. In brief, the railroad company should awaken to the fact that Bellefonte is a great place and is rapidly spreading out in all directions. "No pent-up Utica can confine its powers" and no small building will do for Bellefonte. We have all along said that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is a great institution and if Bellefonters only have patience it will do all that is necessary for the benefit of this town. Now, we don't want the railroad company to go back on us.

—The Watchman Friday morning expresses the belief that if the raw material used in glass manufacture were on the free list it would be beneficial to the Bellefonte glass factory. That may be. But if the reduction in revenue on glass made in the Mills bill goes into effect it will prove disastrous not only to this factory, but to every factory in the United States, as it will bring American glass workers, who make from $20 to $30 per week, into competition with those of Europe who make only from $5 to $12. The glass workers of Pennsylvania and New Jersey fully comprehend this and they will swell the chorus for Harrison and Morton.

An Appropriate Gift.

At a recent meeting of Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R., H. S. Cooper, Esq., the gentlemanly electrician of the Bellefonte Electric Light Company, presented to the Post, through its comrade H. H. Benner, a very handsome marker for the Post Altar Bible. The marker consists of the picture of the late General U. S. Grant with a short military record of the General attached to a piece of very fine ribbon. The Post appreciated the gift of Mr. Cooper so highly that it tendered him a unanimous vote of thanks which it hopes the gentleman will accept.

—The DuBois inheritance tax case was decided by the Supreme Court on Monday of this week. The decision of the Court of Clearfield county was sustained and the DuBois estate is therefore required to pay the collateral inheritance tax to the State, amounting to $186,500 with interest at the rate of 12 per cent from May 6th, 1887. The fee of the Register and Recorder will amount to about seven thousand dollars and there is now further litigation on hand between the present Register and Recorder, D. R. Fullerton, and his predecessor, Geo. M. Ferguson. The latter claims that as he performed all the service in bringing suit, &c., he is entitled to the fee.

Impositors.

In civilized communities there are generally Christian churches and many members of the same who sincerely work for the Master's cause, and to the upholding of his kingdom. They mingle together in prayer and sing, but are sometimes discouraged by impositors, not members of any Christian denomination, in whom Satan entered, who are betraying Christ, not for thirty pieces of silver, but for nothing. They go around like wolves in sheep's clothing imposing on God's people at the Lord's table. They never follow the instructions given in Cor. 24, 13,5, which says : Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith ; prove your ownselves. Know ye not your ownselves but have Jesus is in you except ye be reprobates."

James says in chap. 15, verse 27, that a church should keep itself unspotted from the world and should not permit, or tolerate, any misdemeanor in it that is damaging to the cause, for Satan who is going around like a roaring lion, has his advocates who are ever ready to do his bidding by sowing discord among those who are endeavoring to uphold God's cause, therefore the ordinances of the church should be kept according to the instructions given in 1st verse. "Now I praise you brethren that ye remember me in all things and keep the ordinances as I delivered them to you."

CHRISTIAN.

—We are informed that on Thursday afternoon, when the child of Mr. Wm. Thompson (colored) was buried, there was too much neglect of what was due the occasion on the part of the friends and acquaintances of the family who should have been present to assist. There was only one man present in addition to the undertaker, minister and immediate family, and he was consequently compelled to carry the coffin alone. We suppose that some were deterred from attending because the disease was diphtheria, but the humanity which the Christian religion teaches should provide a way to overcome such hindrances to kind and neighborly action.

The Funeral.

The final services on Thursday morning, in which the friends of the late Alois Beezer paid him their farewell memorial of respect and mingled sympathy with sorrowing friends, were deeply affecting. The attendance at the church was large. The remarks of Rev. Father McArdle were tender and sympathetic. The following gentlemen were the pall bearers : John Curry, Morris Hall, N. Bauer, Louis Doll, Joseph Fox and Jos. Ceaders.

—Read the letter written by Rev. Dr. Dorchester, of the M. E. church, the first part of which is printed in this paper to-day. The rest of the letter will follow to-morrow. It is of peculiar interest to Republicans who may contemplate a vote for third-party Prohibition candidates. Dr. Dorchester is the gentleman who drew up the temperance resolutions for the M. E. conference in New York City, which Gen. Fisk has attempted to use to help in his campaign.

—During a terrific gale Monday evening, the north wall of one of the large buildings of the new Kelly & Jones iron plant, which is in course of erection at Huff Station, near Greensburg, was blown in, entailing a loss of about $600. The wall was of brick and twenty-five feet high. No one was injured, as, fortunately, the men were engaged on the other end of the building at the time of the accident.

—The first quarterly meeting of the United Brethren church, Bellefonte circuit, will be held next Saturday October 6, at 2.30 p. m. Rev. D. Sheerer, P. E., of Johnstown, Pa., will preach in the United Brethren church Sabbath morning and evening at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Come and hear him.

—Mr. Swalley, the present excellent secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of this place, tendered his resignation to the Board on Tuesday evening. It has not yet been accepted.

—Employes of the Lehigh Valley Railroad are circulating a petition for an increase of wages, semi-monthly payments, and an abolition of unnecessary Sunday work.

TRY IT YOURSELF.

"It is of no use to argue the question, Philip, I am neither stubborn nor opinionated, I have simply had a lesson that will last a lifetime."

"Look here, Jack! you are like some old bachelor who has been jilted by some woman, and goes about declaring all women false."

"Not at all! my brother Charley died of Bright's disease, brought on by using one of these so calle 'blood purifiers'—the kind you see attractively advertised in every nook and corner. It contains Iodide of potassium, a drug useful in extreme cases when cautiously given under a doctor's supervision, death-dealing to all who take it in quantity. If your brother had died under such circumstances, you would hate patent medicines as I do."

"I do dislike the name of that mis-called 'blood purifier', for I have heard a first class physician say it is the cause of half the cases of Bright's disease in the country, and it is strange the proprietors have not been prosecuted for selling it. But I was recommending Vinegar Bitters and that does not contain any mineral, narcotic or other hurtful drug."

"Oh, nobody supposes that old woman's remedy will hurt anybody ; the question is will it cure anything? I'd as soon think of taking some of my grandmother's herb tea."

"You would be better off, Jack, if you had some of that tea to tone up your system now, instead of taking a glass of brandy to make you sleep one night, and perhaps a bottle of beer next."

"Is this a temperance lecture, Phil?"

"No, it is a Vinegar Bitters lecture. I've taken the medicine more or less for fifteen years, and look the world over, you will not find a healthier man than I am."

"What is all this nonsense about old style and new style Vinegar Bitters ; are they different?"

"Yes, the old style looks like coffee with milk in, the new style like coffee without milk. The man who made the old style for twenty years—a practical chemist—made a milder, pleasanter preperation, adding to it here, and taking from it there, until he produced, my wife says, the finest medicine ever made. It cured her of constipation, and it cures the children of hives and all the little ailments they ever have. If my wife thinks they have worms, she doses them with old style. We always have both kinds in the house, and together, they keep the doctor away."

'And you insist that the pudding—"

"Is the eating—precisely. Jack, get a bottle of the old style Vinegar Bitters—men, I think, prfer old style usually—try it, and you will then be like an old bachelor who, after railing against women for years, falls in love with a good woman at last. You will say there are good and bad patent medicines, but Vinegar Bitters is the best of the lot."

"All right, Phil, to please you, I'll try it and report results." 20-37-18m

OLD DR. CHASE'S
NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last & Crowning Life Work.

Dr Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 900 pages and sells for $2 25 in cloth binding and $2.50 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

'THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE.'

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this embodies no compilation of his former books, IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK. If 30 years ago he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English-speaking home in the United States, Canada, and South America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE? The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

The Book is published in both English and German.

A Double Tragedy in Bedford County.

The Johnstown Tribune of Saturday gives the following account of a terribly fatal accident which has already been mentioned in this paper:

Yesterday morning Alfred Robb, aged 28 years, a resident of Hyndman, Bedford county, took his shot-gun and started for the woods in search of game. He returned about 1 o'clock and proceeded up the principal street toward his home. On the way thither he met John Miller, aged 15, and Alfred Gross, aged 14. The boys were on their way to school, and, meeting Mr. Robb, stopped and engaged in conversation as to the success of his adventure in the woods. During the course of his recital Mr. Robb, who had been holding his gun on his shoulder, attempted to lower it to his side and in doing so the hammer of the gun caught in some unaccountable manner in his clothing, and falling on the cap discharged the weapon, the charge taking effect in the faces of the boys. A portion of the charge struck young Miller on the head near the temple, killing him instantly. Young Gross, who received the rest of the charge in the neck and face, managed to run in the direction of his home, a distance of fifty feet, when he, too, fell to the ground and expired.

Robb, upon examining the body of young Miller, who was lying at his feet, and finding that he was dead, hastened to the spot where the body of young Gross was lying, and when he discovered that he, too, was dead, fell to the ground in a faint. The bodies of the victims presented an awful spectacle. Nearly the whole of Miller's face was blown away, exposing the bones of the face and skull. Young Miller was the son of Henry Miller, proprietor of the Newman Hotel at Hyndman, and the boy Gross was the son of Benjamin Gross, division foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Hyndman.

Howard.

Mrs. John W. Gardner is visiting her daughter in Garrett, Indiana.

Mr. W E. Confer's little child fell out of a second story window injuring itself, but not fatally.

The Protectionists of Howard and vicinity will float a banner to the breeze on Saturday, the 13th inst. Addresses will be made in the evening.

Balser Weber has returned from his hasty trip to Chicago. It is said that he made a purchase of that wicked city, but will not remove it to Howard until snow falls.

Samuel Brickly, Howard's eccentric and popular shoemaker, is the oldest resident of the place having settled here fifty-five years ago.

Wm. Tipton, the grandfather of Geo. Howard and William Tipton was one of the first settlers in what now constitutes the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craft, of Lewisburg, Pa., have been visiting old friends here, Mr. Craft is one of the enterprising proprietors of the Lewisburg nail works and Mrs. Craft is the daughter of the late Squire Baker.

Our streets and board walks are in tip-top condition. This is due to the energy of street commissioner, John McElwain, who never does things by halves. The people would consult their best interests by continuing him in office.

The other day Hon. John A. Woodward presented to Grove Brothers Post, G. A. R., twenty-one valuable books. This is not the first time this Post has received valuable favors at the hands of one of the best Representatives this county ever sent to Harrisburg.

Before Howard became a borough the place was called "Striptown." This name was fastened upon the locality from the following occurrence. "A lady who kept hired help, one morning missed both her help and underclothing. The lady of the house started out to find her dry goods, and overtaking her hired help, on what is now main street, stripped the outer garments from her and took her own underclothing home and left the young girl on the road in an almost nude condition, hence it became known far and wide as "Striptown."

Be Careful of Health.

This time of year is extremely trying to the ordinary system. Changes are frequent and it is as difficult to regulate clothing to suit the weather as it is to regulate artificial heat. On all sides are noticed bad colds or some sort of pulmonary complaints with a few cases of pneumonia or diphtheria. It is well to wear overcoats or cloaks when the weather is cool. Overshoes also are desirable to keep the feet warm and dry. Remember that health is one of the principal objects to attain in life, without it life is robbed of most of its pleasures. Take care of your health in this trying season.

The Contrasts.

He didn't care how he looked. So he kept on his fourth of July straw hat and donned his Thanksgiving day overcoat. Thus the middle of summer and the latter part of autumn were united. The contrast was one that is more or less frequent, and is almost neccessary with some who value their straw hat as they do their dearest friends.

—The Tyrone Daily Herald says of one of the citizens of th at town: In looking over some of his old papers the other day, Robert Waring, Esq., discovered a naturalization certificate issued to him on the 27th of August, 1840, by the Centre county court. Though a couple years past the age of twentyone at that time, Mr. Waring evidently cast his first vote for William Henry Harrison. He is a native of England but came to this country when a boy ten or fifteen years of age.

Death of Mrs. Ella L. Smith.

A lady whose death is noticed in the Tyrone Daily Herald was recently a resident of this county. We copy from the Herald as follows:

The subject of this sketch, wife of George B. Smith, died at her home on east Juniata street, Sunday morning, October 7th, at twenty minutes of two o'clock after an illness of only two weeks of inflamation of the stomach and liver.

Mrs. Smith was the eldest daughter of Samuel and Hannah Gensimore and was born at Centre Line, Centre county, July 10th, 1865, which would make her at the time of her death 23 years, 2 months and 27 days of age.

She was married to Mr. Smith on the 18th day of January, 1887, and this union was blest with two children, a little son and daughter, the eldest 15 months and the youngest only two weeks old. These together with the husband are left to mourn the loss of one who was a loving wife, and tender, affectionate mother.

Mrs. Smith was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church and one whose gentle, quiet ways endeared her to a host of friends, who by her sudden taking away are sorely bereaved.

Funeral service were held at the deceased's late home Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock and afterward the remains were taken by private conveyance to Warriorsmark, where the interment took place in the Methodist graveyard.

Gatesburg Gleanings.

R. B. Wigton & Son's ore bank started up in full blast again and everybody in this vicinity is busy. The prospects are all right for continuous work if Harrison is elected. At present about four car fuls are being shipped daily.

The postoffice is open to the public and is known as the Gatesburg P. O. The mail leaves the office at 9.30 o'clock and arrives at 11 o'clock a. m.

Jos. S. Myer's has the contract for building Isaac Wry's new barn, to take the place of the one burned down a couple of weeks ago. The barn is to be completed this fall and as it will be an immense affair considerable work will be necessary. The proportions of the barn are 40x72 feet with a tea in front 20x36 —about twice as big as the new depot building you will have in Bellefonte. The barn yard is also to be roofed entirely over. As soon as the timbers are hewed there will be rapid work although there will be cold fingers before the building is completed. AUTUMN.

—Tell us not in mournful numbers that a town is full of gloom, for the man's a crank who slumbers in these bursting days of boom. Life is real, life is earnest, and the grave is not the goal; very dollar that thou turnest, helps to make the old town roll. But enjoyment and not sorrow is destined our end or way if you have no money, borrow—buy a corner lot each day! Lives of great men all remind us we can win immortal fame; let us leave the chumps behind us and we'll get there all the same. In this world's broad field of battle, in the bivouac of life, let us make the dry bones rattle—buy a corner lot for wife! Let us then be up an doing, with a heart for any fate; still acheiving, still pursuing, booming early, booming late!—Tyrone Daily Herald.

LUCAS BROTHERS, HOWARD.

William P. Lucas, of the firm of Lucas Brothers, left last Monday for Phiiadelphia where he will purchase a large stock of fall and winter goods adopted to the wants of the community, which the firm proposes selling at the lowest market price. This enterprising firm now occupies one the largest and neatest store rooms in the county, outside of Bellefonte and carry a large stock of goods. The firm has been in business a number of years and by paying strict attention to the wants of its customers, coupled with fair dealing, has become the leading merchantile firm of the place. The members are to be congratulated upon their success.

—The month of September this year was the coldest since the establishment of the Signal Service in Pennsylvania in 1871. And the lowness in temperature prevailed not only in Pennsylvania but all over the country. The highest temperature recorded by the weather man in Philadelphia was 81,6,° which was reached on the 20th, and several times the mercury sank dangerously near to the freezing point. There was no frost to speak of—Georgia, Tennessee, and Virginia having more frost than Pennsylvania—but there was plenty of rain, hail wind and lightning.

The Fall Girls.

We have not observed that the striking toilets of autumn have yet made their appearance. Of course, the girls are getting them ready, only they have not yet considered it necessary to appear in their fall costumes. Now they are wearing their last season's fall dresses and cloaks. But a continuance of this weather will soon bring out the gay colors and new styles on dress parade. Look out for them, for the Bellefonte belle is decidedly stylish and will be worth looking at.

In Memory of Minnie F. Shawley.

On Monday, October 1, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock, death for the first time, entered the peaceful home of Thomas and Emeline Shawley at Fair View, in Ferguson township. That terrible disease, diphtheria, carried off their beloved little daughter, Minnie, to enter upon her part of the happiness prepared for such as she. Minnie was a very gentle and sweet little girl, the joy and pet of the household. But weep not, fond parents, while by death your home was made sorrowful, Heaven has become brighter.

Minnie F. Shawley was aged at the time of her death 10 years and 27 days. The remains were interred in Messiah's cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Shawley have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire neighborhood in this their hour of affliction.

Of all the birds and flowers
None were more fair than she,
God thought it best to take her home,
And we no more shall see

Her in this world, but on that shore
Where there is naught but bliss
She'll blossom a sweeter flower
Than any found in this.

Our sorrows we scarce can bear,
But God doth all things well,
So we'll cease our sorrows now
And all His praises tell.

O. J. H.

Figures do Prevaricate.

Let us see. On Wednesday last two women brought to market thirty chickens each. They agreed to divide equally the proceeds of their sales. One sold her chickens two for $1, getting for her thirty chickens $15. The other sold her's three for $1, getting for her chickens $10. This made $25 realized on the sixty chickens. They called on a merchant to divide the money. He said: You sold your thirty chickens two for $1, and you sold your thirty chickens three for $1. That makes sixty chickens at the rate of five for $2. Well, five into sixty goes twelve times—twice twelve is twenty-four. That makes $24 your chickens brought. The women couldnt fathom the figures, for they actually had $25 in their pockets. And yet the merchants figures were right. Do figures lie? Mathematecians, rouse from your lethargy and tell us what's the matter with the arithmetics. Did Daboll and the other fellows take into consideration a chicken speculation like this, in order to let two female hucksters come out a dollar ahead? —Ex.

The above figures must have been invented by a Democrat and are very much like the figures used by them to show a majority in New York State or to get comfort from the election in Maine. Because thirty chickens were sold at the rate of two for a $1 and thirty at the rate of three for a $1 it does not follow that sixty were sold at the rate of five for $2. The sixty were sold at the rate of five for $2.08½ which will make the necessary $25.

Waste of Anthracite Coal.

During August the shipment of anthracite coal from the mines to the various markets amounted to 4,109,563 gross tons, which is at the rate of over 49,000,000 for the year.

According to statistics prepared by the Second Geological Survey of Pennsylvania, 66.4 per cent or two-thirds of the coal mined, goes to waste in the various processes of mining, breaking and other wise preparing it for market. A production of 49,000,000 tons of marketable coal a year accordingly represents the exhaustion of 120,000,000 tons of the available supply.

The available supply at present does not exceed 9,000,000,000 tons which brings one to the inevitable deduction that at the present rate of mining and waste, the Pennsylvania anthracite coalfields will become totally exhausted in seventy-five years. These figures suggest the advisability of improved methods of mining and handling anthracite coal in order that the immense amount of waste may, to some extent at least, be prevented.

—Since the opening of the season for shooting squirrels many of our sporting men and boys have frequently gone off to the woods in search of these nimble little inhabitants of the forest, but report having comparatively poor success. By some means this species of game, as well as many other kinds, year by year grow scarcer in this section. The grey squirrels that formerly roamed our hills in large numbers affording the sportsmen boundless delight in hunting them, are now very rarely captured in comparison with a few years ago. Pheasants, plover, flickers, snipe, woodcock, partridge and rabbits do not seem to be as plenty as formerly; and now that favorite little forester, the red squirrel, is gradually disappearing, or else is becoming shy and keeps himself hid when the hunter is around. A stroll through the woods in autumn time in search of the frisky squirrels affords the greatest pleasure to sportsmen, and the fact that these species of game is growing scarcer also, will be very greatly regretted.

—The Watchman states that the plans that the railroad company are now carrying out in erecting the new station building are the ones recommended by Mr. Mackey years ago when the question of building a new depot was first agitated. We think this is a mistake. Hon. L. A. Mackey, of Lock Haven, has all the time been in favor of a new station building, but his ideas of what sort of a building should be erected were much larger than the one which is now in process of construction. Remember, please, that Mr. Mackey is a large man, not only in person but also in his plans, and nothing but a fine, spacious, ornamental structure will accord with his views.

Personal Pencilings.

Mr. Clevan Dinges spent Wednesday in Bellefonte.

Mr. Francis Speer is at home again after a ten days sojourn in Chambersburg.

John T. Johnston, of Harrisburg, was again a sojourner at his home here on Sunday.

Mrs. Jared Harper, of this place, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. D. H. Rote, in Aaronsbug.

Mr. Thomas Nolan, of Washington D. C., is at present paying his periodical visit to Bellefonte.

D. K. Musser, of Aaronsburg, after a brief wrestle with typhoid fever, has come off victorious.

Mrs. Harris, formerly Miss VanTries, of Philadelphia, is at present sojourning among her Bellefonte friends.

Rev. Mr. Hayden, pastor of the Christian congregation, will preach in Milesburg every evening this week.

Mrs. George Brew, of Ridgway, is at present delighting relatives and friends here with a brief sojourn amongst them.

Miss Edith Harris, daughter of Mr. John P. Harris, of this place has resumed the study of medicine in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Furey who formerly resided here and is now a resident of the State of Ohio, is a guest at the home of Mr. Wm. Speer.

Miss Lettie Landis, one of Bellefonte's most charming young ladies, went to Lemont on Wednesday to spent a couple of weeks.

Governor Beaver will probably not again be in Bellefonte until election day. His family, who are now here, will go to Harrisburg next week.

Mr. E. B. Greene, manager of the Altoona electric light service, spent Sunday here, his family having been visiting in town for several weeks. Mr. Greene reports the electric business in Altoona in a very prosperous condition.

Mr. W. L. Miller, stenographer in the office of the Collins Brothers, conducted the meeting in Y. M. C. A. hall on Sunday afternoon. His address on the subject "Work" was an exceedingly excellent one, evincing considerable thought and logical argument.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boileau, of Missoula, Montana, are at present in the East. On Friday morning they departed in company with Mrs. P. H. Haupt, of Milesburg, for Ridgway, to visit Austin McClain and wife. Mr. Boileau will depart for Missoula on the 13th instant.

Rev. Mr. Hayden, of the Christian church, who spent last week in Massachusetts to which State he was deputised to make overtures of union between his church and that of the Free Baptist church, reports that his mission was successful. There is every reason to believe that the union will be perfected.

Mrs. Blair, wife of Gen. William H. Blair, Mrs. John P. Harris and Miss Lydia Thomas, representing the W. C. T. U., and Miss Ella Rhone, of the Y. W. C. T. U., departed for Pittsburg this morning to attend the State Convention of the Union. Mrs. Harris is the President of the Centre county Union. This is a lovely time in the year for travel and the ladies expect the trip to be a delightful one.

Francis Speer's trip was quite an extended one. In addition to visiting Chambersburg, he also visited every "burg" an "ville" that he could find in Pennsylvania. At Northumberland he attended a grand party and at Bloomsburg he was treated like a king. He says that he has so many young ladies from a distance "on the string" that it is entirely unnecessary for any more Bellefonte maidens to waste their smiles on him.

Personal Pencilings.

Fairbrook News.

Mrs. McCulley, of Huntingdon, on her return from a trip to the West, spent a few days with friends in this place.

The cheerful hum of Mr. J. L. Carter's cider press can be heard all hours of the day. His press being one of the finest in the county, has a large patronage.

Mr. G. W. McWilliams expects the men in a few days to paint his house. This improvement will add to the appearance of his residence.

The M. E. church of this place had its cheerful walls warmed by the heat from a furnace put in by James Harris & Co. The church building is thought by all to be one of the finest in the county which fact is due largely to the good workmanship of M. M. Ward & Bro.

Miss Laura Meek, of this place, is visiting friends in Philipsburg.

The engine owned by D. G. Miller, while threshing at Mr. H. C. Campbell's, got out of repair. He had two experts from Bellefonte at work on it last week, and it is hoped that they will have it in running order soon. DICK.

—The meetings held by the Republicans are larger attended everywhere this year than those held by Democrats. For instance, it was so in Philipsburg. The Daily Journal, of that place, in prefacing its report of a Prohibition meeting uses the words that we shall quote. As the editor is himself an avowed Prohibitionist his reference to the Democratic and Republican meetings may be taken as exactly correct. He says: "On Thursday last, the Democrats, without a parade through the streets, held their meeting in the Opera House, and was well attended. The following evening the Republicans stirred up their supporters with brass bands and procession of the more ardent supporters of the party in full uniform and torchlight, and got together a bigger crowd at the Opera House, which occasionly exhibited its enthusiasm by volleys of cheers and loud acclamations."

A Slander Contradicted.

E. R. Chambers, Esq., has learned that it is reported through the county that he will vote for Cleveland this fall. He considers that no more disgraceful slander could possibly be circulated concerning him and desires us to contradict it in the strongest possible language. He has always been a Republican and always expects to be, and says that if he had been so unfortunate as to be a Democrat he would assuredly vote for Harrison this year. Now if you do feel inclined to say anything slanderous about him don't let it be this greatest of slanders of intimating that he will vote for Cleveland.

A Point in Mechanics' Lien Law.

Judge Allison, of Philadelphia, decided on Saturday, in common pleas No. 1, that a man who furnishes materials in the construction of a house under a contract made with the owner of the property is not obliged, under the mechanics' lien law, to give that owner notice of the delivery of the material. A material man, who supplies materials to the contractor for the erection of the building, is obliged to give the owner such notice, and it was right to extend this to the case of one who dealt directly with the owner. The judge held that in the latter case there was no necessity for notice.

—George Hubbartt of Mapleton Indiana, is said to be the oldest voter in the United States. He has voted for every president except three. His present age is 104 and he expects to vote for General Harrison.
